

Approve Truman Request

House Foreign Affairs Committee Favors Full Amount For European Aid

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The House Foreign Affairs committee today approved the full amount asked by President Truman for western Europe arms aid. The committee, however, split it up between cash and contract authority.

The committee also refused to include any authorization for an arms-aid program for non-Communist China.

It split the western Europe fund into two allotments, one to be used up to next March 31 and the other to finance the program between March 31 and June 30, 1950.

The president had requested $1,160,990,000 to help Atlantic pact nations arm against aggression. He wanted it all in cash.

Committee Decision

The committee decided to give it this way:

Cash: $498,130,000 to be used up to next March 31 and $157,710,000 to be used between March 31 and June 30.

Contract Authorization: $428,100,000 up to March 31 and $77,050,000 from March 31 to June 30. The House committee acted shortly after Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Dulles (R-N.Y.) had moved to share $160,990,000 off the European arms program.

The two senators also proposed a series of amendments aimed at meshing the program into a North Atlantic defense plan to be drafted under terms of the recently approved security treaty.

Purpose of Amendment

Vandenberg told a news conference the amendments he and Dulles have drafted would permit recapture of any equipment furnished by this country "if the program goes sour."

They also would permit Congress, acting by concurrent resolution which does not require a presidential signature, to end aid to any nation at any time.

Vandenberg and Dulles proposed to limit aid to western European countries to $1,000,000,000 instead of the $1,160,990,000 proposed in the pending bill.

Balance Farm Association Group Picnic

Marketing Director State Farm Bureau Gives an Address

Relations between the farmer and city dweller must be improved, E. M. Woods, of Columbia, stressed during an impressive talk on social and economic problems to members of the Pettis County Balance Farming Association, attending a picnic at Liberty Park, Sunday evening.

Mr. Woods, who speaks the farmer's language and calls a space a space, is a livestock and marketing director of Missouri Farm Bureau Federation, and a former Jackson county farm agent. He is well known in Pettis county as a livestock specialist, having attended livestock sales and shows here on numerous occasions.

Members of Pettis County Balanced Farming Association, of which Merle Vaughtan is associate agent and Fred Hoos chairman, arrived at the picnic grounds with their baskets loaded with fried chicken, salads and desserts. One of the main reasons for holding these entire membership get-togethers is for the farmers to get acquainted with fellow members, and to add to their knowledge of farming by hearing farm speeches.

Real Necessities

Charles Arnold introduced the main speaker, who related many points on why he thought prices of commodities were what they are today. Mr. Woods said the real necessities are food, shelter and clothing.

Speaking on the high prices of food people are concerned about, he said they let their money buy their wants first, such as some luxuries, then with only a few dollars left out of their salary to purchase food, the food is too high. Shoppers are reminded every day of the food prices, simply by having to buy groceries often, but are not reminded often of the high price of clothing, etc., because they are not bought as often, the speaker related.

Gives an Example

For an example, he told of the price of a hog sold on foot, and compared the price of the animal after it had been handled by labor unions on down the line before it reached the butcher shop. He said if the wheat in a 15-cent loaf of bread was free, it would still cost the buyer 12 cents, or if the milk was free, an 18-cent quart of milk would still cost 11 cents, this being attributed to expenses of labor, hauling, etc.

Vaughan Reviews Program

Mr. Vaughtan reviewed the things the members have been working on since the association became effective two years ago. The agent said the fifty members in the group built 64 terrace outlets and 21 miles of terraces last year, which were 64 per cent of outlets and 38 per cent of terraces built out of 2500 farms in the county.

He said in 1949 the association has already built 63 outlets and more terraces than last year. Five farm buildings have been remodeled and 24 members have made plans to remodel farm homes. Mr. Vaughtan said 10 farmers have raised pigs on clean ground and have raised 15 per cent more pigs per litter and got their pigs to market 30 days earlier than other folks in the association, who raised pigs in old lots.

The associate agent said last year 12 members brought in 39 soil samples and this year 17 have already brought in 60 samples to the office.

Germans Hand Reds Fourth Major Defeat

Voters Give The Right Wing Parties Majority

By Brack Curry

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Western Germany has handed its right wing parties a mandate to direct the new federal republic for the crucial next four years.

More than 24,000,000 Germans swarmed to the polls yesterday, in their first free election since Hitler took over in 1933. They handed Communism its fourth major defeat in western Europe since the war. France, Italy and west Berlin said "no" to the Reds in earlier elections.

Western Germany's rebuff marks the retreat of Communism to the river Elbe where the Red army stands guard.

West German voters also rejected socialism and extreme right pro-Nazi groups, giving the control of the 402-member parliament to the free enterprise parties whose policies have the confidence of American officials.

A Few Street Fights

In bright, hot weather, the people strolled to the heavily-policed polls in sober family groups. There were a few street fights in some cities but for the most part voting was orderly.

Topping the popular vote with 7,356,025 were the Conservative Christian Democrats.

Close behind with 6,932,303 were the Social Democrats who want to nationalize big industries. They closely resemble Britain's ruling Labor party.

The Free Democrats, who favor the free enterprise system with no reservations, surged into third place with 2,827,948 votes.

By joining with the Christian Democrats they can assure a controlling bloc in parliament and will be able to form a conservative cabinet.

Communists Spurned

Trailing the field of the major parties were the Communists who slumped from ten per cent of the popular vote in 1946 state elections to about six per cent — 1,360,469 votes.

Even Max Reimann, fiery chief of the Communist party in west Germany, was spurned by his home district.

Rejected by the voters, Reimann will nevertheless probably be named to the parliament as a member from North Rhine-Westphalia under the proportional representation system.

Parliamentary seats allotted to the parties on the basis of completed election returns:

Christian Democrats, 139; Social Democrats, 131; Free Democrats, 52; German Party, 17; Bavarian party, 17; Communists 15; Economic Reconstructionists 12; Center Party, 10; German Right Party, 5; Emergency Association, one; Radical Socialist Freedom Party, one; Independents, two.

The proposed dam would impound a lake of about 600 acres and make possible a recreation area. At present the city gets its water from the Chariton river.

Marine Explorer Begins an Attempt to go Down 6000 Ft.

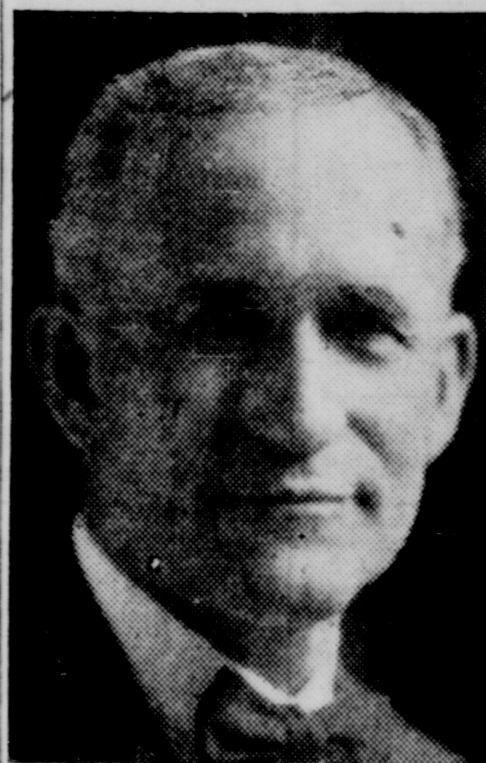

SMUGGLER'S COVE, Calif., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Marine Explorer Otis Barton today began an attempt to descend 6,000 feet into the ocean depths, deeper than man has ever gone before.

The 48-year-old Boston scientist, after two days of delay from mechanical trouble with his bathyscope, and rough water, began dropping in his steel sphere, the Benthoscope, at 10:39 a. m.

As the diving bell descended it was halted at about every 200 feet so that telephone and power cables could be lashed to the main 3½-inch steel cable.

The Benthoscope reached 1,000 feet and was halted temporarily for minor adjustment of power lines.

Large Crowd at Lions Club Air Show Sunday

U. S. Air Forces Jetcraft Unable To Make Appearance

The annual air show, which was sponsored by the Sedalia Lions club at the Sedalia Municipal airport Sunday, was attended by an estimated coming and going crowd of better than 7,500 persons. The Lions committee members in charge reported they felt it was a success in getting central Missourians acquainted with the municipal field and entertained by flying events which included a parachute jump and an exhibition of model aircraft.

Several thousand persons were disappointed when jet aircraft from the U. S. air forces failed to make their appearance over the field. The planes were routed out of Scott Field, Ill., but due to an overcast and thunder-showers which surrounded the area Flight Leader Lieut. Humphries felt it advisable not to come into this area with that type of aircraft.

Still Experimental Planes

Former Army air force pilots explained the jet planes were still in the experimental stage and chances would be taken in trying to bring such craft through the overcast at the speeds they travel. It would have been different with more proven aircraft they explained, such as the transport planes of the type which were flying south of the field in a formation about 4:00 o'clock. Those planes were Air Force Reserves stationed at Fairfax Field, Kansas and were returning to their base from summer training at Atterbury Field, Columbus, Ind.

The formation was that of the 442nd Troop Carrier wing at Fairfax, of which several Sedalia pilots are members and were in the formation. There were 32 planes in the formation.

The show included contests of balloon bursting, bomb dropping, formation flying, paper cutting in the air by the small planes, acrobatics by Jack Funk, a "hot-rod" happy exhibition of how not to fly and model plane demonstrations in which more than 20 small planes were flown.

A Parachute Jump

Danny Willis, parachute packer at the Kansas City Municipal airport made a parachute jump at better than 1,500 feet and landed on the air strip in front of the crowd. He dropped from the plane piloted by Sam Tuck for nearly 500 feet before his first chute opened. He used a second chute just before he hit the ground to cushion his fall and to help from pulling him across the flying field.

Expenses for the show were paid for through money obtained in the sale of soft drinks and hot dogs.

Jack Funk's Air Service furnished the planes and gasoline to provide the air entertainment and to carry passengers over the field and over Sedalia.

Expects to Start Channel Swim Tuesday

DOVER, England, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Shirley May France expects to start her channel swim late tonight or early tomorrow.

Harry Boudakian, coach of the 17-year-old Massachusetts mermaid, said she might cross tonight to Cape Gris Nez, France, and start the battle with the swift waters of the English Channel on the first good tide about midnight.

The sea was calm this morning. Conditions looked ideal for Shirley May's attempt to conquer the treacherous 21 miles separating England from the continent.

Airliner Overshot Airport

Bellied Into the Atlantic Off Coast Of Ireland; 49 of 58 Occupants Saved

GALWAY, Ireland, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Its fuel exhausted, an American four-engined air liner bellied into the Atlantic off western Ireland in darkness early today. Nine of its 58 occupants were killed and the rest were saved in a dramatic sea-air rescue.

Among those saved was Ruth Nichols, 48, noted American aviatrix.

The big Skymaster, bound from Rome to New York with 47 Italian emigrants to Venezuela and 11 Americans aboard, overshot Shannon airport. Another American airliner tried to escort it back to Shannon, but the Sky Master's gasoline gave out and it plopped into the calm sea 15 miles off the Irish coast.

British and American transport planes guided surface vessels in the rescue operations.

Nine Americans in Crew

Nine of the Americans aboard were crew members and two were employees of Transocean Airlines, owners of the plane.

Ten hours after the plane dropped through a cloud bank into the sea, the British trawler Stalberg pulled into Galway harbor with 49 survivors. The Irish steamer Lanahorne had helped her in the rescue work.

One American crewman was killed. The other eight dead were passengers, according to Otis Nelson, president of Transocean Airlines.

Nelson identified the dead crewman as radio officer Herbert Asbel of Brooklyn, N. Y. Survivors said he was killed while he was trying to leave the plane. Apparently he was struck by a piece of the plane's broken tail.

Radio Blanked Out

When the plane was approaching Shannon, Asbel's radio equipment was blanked out by atmospheric conditions, and this caused the plane to overshoot the airport. Over the Atlantic, the plane went down so gently, the survivors said, that they were not even thrown from their seats.

The only woman passenger, an Italian, was reported to be among the dead.

The pilot, Capt. Edward C. Bessey of Wethersfield, Conn., is a veteran of 19 years flying experience.

"I had fuel for 11½ hours of flight — a reserve of more than three hours — but it was all gone," Bessey said on his arrival here. "So I sent word back to prepare for ditching."

No Panic

There was no panic among the passengers. They buckled their lifebelts calmly and strapped themselves into their seats for an expected crash.

The passengers helped inflate the four life rafts. As the plane settled into the water they scurried out in an orderly manner.

Bessey said he ordered the American crewmen to leave the floundering craft last. They obeyed.

"I saw Asbel standing on the fuselage," Bessey said. "Either a piece of the tail which broke off or some other wreckage struck him and he was knocked off and drowned."

Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Derr of San Lorenzo, Calif., were the two non-revenue passengers. Derr is South American sales manager for Transocean. Both were rescued uninjured. They emphasized there was no panic.

Took News Calmly

"Everybody took the news calmly — surprisingly so," said Mrs. Derr.

She said American stewardess Luigina Cerabona — who spoke Italian — "was wonderful to the passengers."

From the surface of the sea, crewmen of the trawler Stalberg watched the plane drop toward the water.

"We saw it with all its landing lights on," said first mate Dudley Davis. "It glided across our bow — it looked slow — and skidded into the water. All the lights went out."

Davis said it was too dark to attempt immediate rescue and the trawler stood by until dawn.

Author Better, But Still Critical

ATLANTA, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Novelist Margaret Mitchell appeared today to be "somewhat better, though still in critical condition," a member of the family reported.

The spokesman said the author of "Gone With the Wind" had been given a blood transfusion and was being fed through a tube.

X-rays yesterday showed the 43-year-old writer received a fractured skull and fractured pelvis when struck down by an automobile Thursday night.

Will Our Economic Growth be Stunted by Heavier Taxation?

By Bruce Blossat

Thomas B. McCabe, chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, believes our economic growth may eventually be stifled if we don't reduce income taxes so Americans will be more venturesome with their savings.

MCCabe, a Republican is a former Pennsylvania banker and manufacturer. This is his first important utterance since he became the chairman.

Undoubtedly there will be many efforts to dismiss the statement as just another business man's blast against high taxes. It's true, of course, that business has always wailed about the "ruinous" effects of income levies. From the start each new boost in rates has been opposed as certain to destroy initiative.

But the fact that the American economy has continued to grow and develop through all these increases should not blind us to the possibility that the arguments may at some point become valid.

On the day McCabe's statement appeared, the Census Bureau reported a total U. S. tax bill for fiscal 1948 of $54,500,000,000. That is close to 25 per cent of the national income.

When a fourth of the country's income is being siphoned out of the economic stream into government, isn't it reasonable to examine carefully the effect this drain is having on our productive system?

It may be trite to say it, but it is after all our economy which supports our various governmental enterprises. We cannot indefinitely expand the latter without having regard for the continued productiveness of the former.

Government cannot live on a sluggish, stagnating economy. And that is what worries McCabe. He contends that risk-taking by American investors has been discouraged by federal tax policies.

He especially would like to see an end to double taxation of corporate dividends. He thinks this would greatly speed the flow of savings into investments and help to push ahead the country's frontiers in technology and production.

A thorough review of taxes and their relation to the economy is long overdue. Congress has talked about it for years but has taken no real action. Last year the House passed a general tax revision bill, but it was a cluttered affair that did little to end the confusion on major points. And it died in the Senate.

A full-scale assault on the tax problem ought to be high on the congressional agenda for 1950. We've been drifting long enough.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Justice Douglas Blasted by Soviets on Trip in Iran

By Robert S. Allen

(Ed. Not — While Drew Pearson is on brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by his old partner, Robert S. Allen.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15—Supreme court justice William O. Douglas found himself in a perplexing crossfire during his recent mountain climbing trip in the hinterlands of Iran (ancient Persia).

On one hand he was the target of Soviet blasts as a "big devil spy," and on the other of Iranian censorship and iron-handed military control.

The Russian fulminations were publicized. But the iron curtain that Iran slammed down on Douglas has come to light only since his return to the U. S.

Shah Mohammed Riza Pahlevi, who comes to the U. S. in November, personally ordered the blackout on Douglas.

This is the untold story:

From American officials in Iran, Douglas learned that desperate famine conditions prevail in Azerbaijan, northeast province that adjoins Russia. A combination of extreme winter and severe spring drought had destroyed crops and most of the herds of the area. Hundreds have died of hunger. To the outrage of American authorities, the Iranian government has done very little to ameliorate the tragic situation.

In one notorious instance, even that little was looted for personal gains.

The military commander of the district diverted a 400-ton shipment of relief grain to private traders and pocketed the proceeds.

U. S. officials are profoundly concerned about the explosive Azerbaijan situation because it plays squarely into Communist hands. Even under normal conditions, the historic area is one of the critical tinderboxes of the world. Azerbaijan was occupied for several years by the Red army, which built a number of roads and made strenuous efforts to woo the tribesmen. Large Red combat patrols still make occasional penetrations. Also, Russian agents abound and are making the most of the Iranian government's incompetence, neglect and corruption.

Douglas' itinerary included a visit to Tabriz, capital of Azerbaijan. The day before he was to fly there, he had lunch with the shah. The young ruler talked a glowing line of reform and national development. But he froze up when Douglas mentioned casually his impending trip to Tabriz.

Two hours later, the U. S. embassy was officially notified that the shah had barred Douglas from flying to Azerbaijan, northwest province that adjoins Russia.

Request for an explanation for this extraordinary action brought the reply, "evil reports are emanating from there. The reports are unfavorable to the shah and the government."

Note: Although receiving huge oil royalties, Iranian government tried to shake down the U. S. for 200,000 bushels of free grain for famine relief.

Practical Joker

New York's representative Vito Marcantonio follows a militant leftist line, but he has his light moments.

Stalking into the Democratic cloakroom, he entered a phone booth near a group of lounging congressmen. Leaving the booth door open so he could be heard, Marcantonio said to the operator, "I want Moscow, Russia, person-to-person call. I want to talk to Premier Josef Stalin. Make it snappy."

The listening congressmen perked up their ears.

"What's that, operator?" yelled Marcantonio. "You say the premier is busy and can't talk to me now? No, I don't want to talk to anyone else. Tell him I'll call later."

Marcantonio emerged from the booth with a deadpan.

"You really weren't calling Stalin, were you?" asked Representative Helen Gahagan Douglas, D., Calif.

"Sure I was," replied Marcantonio, still deadpan. "I telephone the Kremlin three or four times a week to get the pitch. That's the way I know how to follow the party line. Get the dope right from headquarters."

Espionage Trial Changes

President Truman is considering recommending important changes in the trial procedure of espionage cases, aimed at preventing mistrials and the introduction of evidence endangering security, such as the FBI files made public in the Judith Coplon trial.

In a letter to freshman congressman Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts, who recommended the changes, Truman has strongly indicated the use of the FBI Coplon evidence was inadvisable, though he doesn't refer specifically to that trial. The Furcolo recommendations embody:

(1) Appointment of an additional judge in trials of long duration that affect the national security. His sole function would be to prevent a mistrial by immediately taking over if the presiding judge becomes ill or dies.

Furcolo pointed out that the 1944 mass sedition cases were declared a mistrial following the death of presiding federal judge Edward Eicher. Result, the defendants went free.

A new trial is almost out of the question in such cases, Furcolo contended, both because of the expense to the government and the fact that the defense would have an advantage in knowing the government's evidence.

(2) Furcolo also urged the appointment of a commission of law deans, judges and others to study revisions in the rules of evidence so as to preclude disclosure of security information in espionage trials. Regarding the FBI file impounded by the Coplon trial judge, the Massachusetts congressman declared: "The security of the nation should not be sacrificed for the sake of one defendant."

Truman replied that he and the attorney general would study both recommendations, adding, "I think you are right about the procedure in criminal cases wherever the evidence affects national security."

"They (apparently the justice department) have not yet arrived at a proper solution for this situation in connection with a fair trial for defendants."

• So They Say

Some cocktail lounge liberals, as well as some of our conservative friends, have a "touch-me-not" attitude toward politics that simply does not make sense. They want the world remade overnight with others handling the details while they sit aloof and unsullied.—Gov. Chester Bowles of Connecticut.

If there are two nations between whom war is unthinkable, it is Britain and America. —Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council in the British Labor Cabinet.

It must be made clear that the United States has no intention, in the event of aggression, of allowing the peoples of western Europe to be overrun before its own power can be brought to bear.—President Truman.

The thing that puts us in such good shape . . . is the fact that practically all of our adult Americans . . . are acutely conscious of what is going on in our economy and are demanding corrective action before any temporary dislocation turns into panic or depression.—Sen. Francis J. Myers (D) of Pennsylvania.

How any human being can fire bullets into a crowd of people beats me. They're animals. They ain't human.—Los Angeles gang boss Mickey Cohen, after being shot with three others by unknown gunmen.

Parents must accept the major responsibility for the soaring rate of traffic deaths and accidents among drivers under 25 years of age, which totaled 7500 killed and 275,000 injured in 1947.—James S. Kemper, chairman, Lubermen's Mutual Casualty Company.

The economy is generally sound. It is almost impossible to have a depression with one condition — if people get scared, particularly if businessmen get scared, anything can happen. —Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer.

If labor is the hands and management the head of Hawaii's economic life, ocean-going transportation is the jugular vein. If that is cut, both hands and head are sure to perish. —Gov. Ingram Stainback of the Territory of Hawaii.

Early Detection Vital to Halt Spread of Cancer in Body

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

The cause of cancer has so far remained undetected. However, many competent investigators all over the world are tackling this problem and it may not be too long before the vital clue is discovered. In the meanwhile, however, everyone should realize that it is most difficult to treat any disease the cause of which is as uncertain as is that of cancer.

The average age of the people in civilized countries is gradually increasing. In the later years of life, however, diseases like cancer become more frequent. Thus, there is good reason to believe that as there become more older members of the population, the frequency of cancer will also increase.

Develops Rapidly

A cancerous tumor located in a single organ or portion of the body can often be removed completely by surgery or treated effectively by X-rays if it is discovered and the treatment begun before it has had a chance to spread or to become generalized. This basic fact is the reason why all those who speak on cancer prevention emphasize the importance of an early diagnosis and prompt treatment.

Besides the need for more information on the cause or causes of cancer, a simple accurate test which will make it possible to know whether cancer is present or not anywhere in the body is also needed.

This is particularly important because it is obviously impossible to examine everyone thoroughly every few months by X-rays and other special tests which are the only means available today for identifying the presence of cancer in some particular body part or organ.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

QUESTION: It is true that the darker the color of a person's eyes, the better the eyesight?

ANSWER: This is not true, except that people with dark eyes have somewhat better protection from bright light. Dark-eyed people would not see better under ordinary conditions, but might do so in extremely bright sunlight.

Married Women Needn't Balk at Playing Cupid Occasionally

Every now and then, among the many letters I receive from single girls, young widows, and divorcees wanting to know how a girl can meet some eligible men there's the plaintive cry, "If there were some sort of club where young men and women could get acquainted."

There wouldn't be such a crying need for organized matchmaking if the married women of the country would take it on themselves to do a little boy-meets-girl arranging.

That's the natural and logical place for girls without husbands and men without wives to meet—in the homes of their married friends.

But married women today just turned there following a visit with friends here.

J. H. Piper, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., returned this morning from Green Ridge, where he gave an address at a church Sunday.

Announcement is made that a four county fair will be held at Rock Island park, Windsor, September 23, 24 and 25.

At a meeting of the congregation of the German Evangelical church Sunday the resignation of the Rev. Otto Press was accepted. It was voted to have Rev. A. C. Rasche supply the pulpit for the present.

don't seem to go in for match-making the way they used to.

One reason probably is that they're afraid. They've been fed so much "how to hold your man" advice during the last few years that unless they're serenely confident of their husbands, they're afraid to have a husband-hunting woman around.

Another reason is just pure laziness on the married hostesses' part. It's so simple to invite a few married couples to dinner or for an evening of cards. But it takes a little ingenuity to include Agatha who hasn't a husband and get hold of an eligible man to pair her off with.

Single Girl's Plight Sometimes Ignored

Selfishness sometimes enters the picture, too. The woman who has a home and a husband and is sitting pretty, often doesn't care whether that nice Miss so-and-so or that sweet widow she met at church is sitting home alone or

But I think married women are shirking a social responsibility and also missing a lot of fun when they pass up matchmaking as an extracurricular activity.

If they are fortunate enough to have husbands and homes in which to entertain, they ought to put themselves out occasionally to bring two lonesome young people together.

In addition, it gives a woman a mighty smug feeling, as any matchmaker knows, to introduce a young couple in her home and have the meeting lead to marriage.

So how about making it a personal project—if you're comfortably married yourself—to see if you can't help one or two of the single women you know to find a husband?

You may be indebted yourself to some married woman who figured you'd be just right for your husband—and took the trouble to see that you met.

THE STORY: A wealthy widow, Mrs. Everson, has fled with her servants in two giant trailers to escape destruction if atomic war comes. She has sold all her property, converted her cash to jewels, saying that those prepared to survive will rule after the catastrophe. With her is her cook Mrs. Malone, her chauffeur Rudy, her houseboy Victor, and her companion the Marchese Dellaessa. Arriving at a sheltered desolate spot in canyon country, Mrs. Everson announces that this place is safe and prepares to camp for several months. She holds a dinner in celebration of their arrival. After dinner, Victor informs Rudy, with whom Mrs. Everson is in love, that the widow has gone out alone and is waiting for him. Rudy, who thinks of Mrs. Everson only in terms of her wealth, follows. Mrs. Malone goes to her quarters, but the sky is dark, the atmosphere is heavy. Mrs. Malone begins to wonder if it is The Bomb or a storm.

haunted. Once you have seen Rome, you carry it with you forever in your mind and heart. Crumbling. Rich as old ivory. Old . . . old . . .

"Is there anything more I can do?" Mrs. Malone said.

"Oh. No. No—nothing. Good night, Malone."

In spite of the throttling heat, she closed the door of her cubicle, undressed and lay down on top of the covers.

MRS. MALONE must have slept an hour, perhaps. She awoke with a start to hear the roaring of a motor and the grinding of tires as they fought the sand for traction. She sat up, reaching for her robe. The truck! Someone was driving it away!

She groped with her bare feet, found her slippers, ran to the door. Standing on the top step she leaned forward to look. The lightning had increased now to an almost continuous flickering and dancing of blue fire. By this unholy light Mrs. Malone could see the great unwieldy shape of the truck lurching toward the bank.

Gears crashed violently, and of a sudden the headlights bored into the forest. The truck climbed, rocked, straightened out and roared off in a diminishing thunder of exhaust.

"Victor!" Mrs. Malone called.

"Victor!"

She was answered by a shriek that came from the direction of the falls. Her blood froze. Animal or human? The sound ripped the silence like tearing a cloth. Mrs. Malone felt it in her teeth, along her spine; it was both a screech and a wail, a demon sound.

"Victor!" Mrs. Malone cried again.

She saw him running with a flashlight through the sand. Then he seemed fairly to leap across the stream in the direction from which that single hair-raising scream had come.

"Mrs. Everson!" he shouted. The round spot of intense light from his flash swung, wavered, paused, and Mrs. Malone saw Mrs. Everson stumbling out of the forest.

"What is the matter?" the Marchese asked.

He came up behind Mrs. Malone.

"Mrs. Everson . . ." she began.

THE Marchese pushed her aside, ran down the steps and started across the stream. Mrs. Malone fumbled along the wall, found the switch panel. The lights came on, bright and steady and reassuring after the tumult outside. Then Victor and the Marchese appeared with Mrs. Everson between them.

She was pale as death, with her face bloody and the gold dress in ribbons—and no jewels. No jewels at all. The necklace of great emeralds was gone, the bracelets, the rings . . .

"Quick!" the Marchese called.

"Brandy!"

They carried Mrs. Everson into the salon and put her down on the sofa, piling the satin cushions under her head. With scratched, shaking hands she tried to hold the small glass of brandy to her lips. Her teeth chattered against the rim, and the liquid spilled down into her bosom.

"Rudy . . ." she gasped. "He tried to kill me. He got the jewels. He's gone."

"I will go after him in the car," Victor said. "I can make it faster than he can. I will tell the police and they will stop him."

Mrs. Everson shook her head. She looked up at the Filipino with a strange, unreadable expression.

"No," she said. "You mustn't go. It is too late. You wouldn't come back. And I need you here."

Some Problems Facing Europe Is Club Topic

Address Given by Young Minister From Marshall

Rev. James C. Spalding, of Marshall, Professor of Religion at Missouri Valley college, was the speaker at Rotary Monday noon at the Bothwell hotel, taking for his subject: "Some Problems Facing Democracy in Europe."

Oscar DeWolf, president, presided over the meeting with invocation by Rev. J. Fred King.

The singing was led by Lee Peabody.

Guests introduced by J. O. Latimer were: Dick Snow, guest of Z. Lyle Brown; Phil Burford, guest of Kirk McCrary; Henry Neidhold and Rotarians Eugene L. Preston, newspaper publisher, Liberty; Kelly Edgington, Advance.

The Rev. Mr. Spalding, who with his wife, the former Miss Virginia Burford, of this city, recently returned from Europe, was introduced by the program chairman, Rev. T. W. Croxton.

A Nation Under God

The speaker said that in inspired moments we have always considered this nation as under God. "As we face the tremendous world responsibilities we have today," he said, "it would be well for us to consider what it means that this nation exists under God. The founders of our nation had a sense that God had favored our nation. Not only did they feel that God favored us in a special way, but felt that this favor implied a special destiny for us as a nation. God has given us these good things in order that we may fulfill our purpose. Thirdly they had the feeling that if they did not live up to that purpose they would be standing under the judgment of Almighty God."

Mr. Spalding pointed out that men like Franklin, Jefferson, Washington and Madison felt that we had received those gifts in order to fulfill a high purpose. That purpose was to bring justice and freedom to all mankind.

Failed in Mission

"Lincoln," said Mr. Spalding, "reaffirmed that high calling of America in his Gettysburg address. He felt that the Civil War was a judgment of God upon America because we had not lived up to our mission."

"When we look at the problem of democracy in Europe today we must think of these things. First, we must provide leadership and inspiration to Europe. Second, if the nations of Europe don't seem to come along exactly as we want them to, we must not be arrogant, for we do not always act according to our ideals as recorded in the constitution and we have been better favored than some of the European nations."

"What Europe needs is more unity among nations," the speaker said. "America is helping in two ways. The ECA or Marshall Plan and the Atlantic Pact. The first helps provide resources to help Western Europe get on its feet. The second provides defense while Western Europe gets on its feet. Not a balance of power necessary but preponderance of power."

Sedalia Rotarians visiting other clubs the past week were D. S. Lamm, Anaheim, Calif.; Rev. D. Warren Neal, Brookfield; Emory Bowman, Kremmling, Colo.; O. W. Wiley, Port Allegany, Pa., and Stansel DeFoe, Halifax, Canada.

Wm. F. Brown, chairman of the Pettis County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said today that despite the tremendous challenge of widespread polio epidemics this summer the National Foundation "would see to it that no victim of the disease goes without proper medical care for lack of funds."

"In view of the staggering outlays for polio treatment both this summer and last," he said, "I think it advisable to reassure the public that the National Foundation and its Chapters will take whatever steps may be required to provide care for all those who need it."

Brown, noting that the polio incidence rate this year was running far ahead of last year's near-record total of 27,895 cases, said that never before in history had the nation experienced two such epidemic years in succession.

Money to Critical Areas

"Last year," he said, "National Headquarters of the Foundation sent $7,000,000 to Chapters whose treasuries had been drained to provide medical care for patients. Already this year almost $4,000,000 has been dispatched to critical areas, and the end seems far from sight."

"I want to make it perfectly clear, however, that despite this financial crisis, the National Foundation has no intention of defaulting its obligation to underwrite medical care for those who need financial assistance and to carry on its extensive search and professional training program."

Mr. Brown said the National Foundation was fighting current epidemics "in every way it knew how," aided materially by a tremendous backlog of experience in coordinating previous epidemics.

"The National Foundation is unique," he said, "in its ability to mobilize all its forces in times of epidemic. Respirators, hot pack machines and other vital equipment, together with specially trained personnel are being speeded to critical areas this summer on a scale never before imagined."

Went to Fish, But Brought Back Snake

M. L. Hopper, Bill Bergman and Lester Harrell, all of Sedalia, went on a fishing trip Saturday night southeast of Smithton on Flat Creek, but instead of coming back with a fish story they came back with a snake story.

The uninformed fourth on their fishing party was a four foot rattlesnake with 11 rattles.

Bergman got a big strong forked stick and attempted to capture the snake, but it didn't like the idea. It began to fight and finally Bergman took the stick and killed it.

The boys brought the dead snake back to town to prove their story.

Out of Jail—Temporarily

Will Rogers Legend Recalled After 14 Years

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Fourteen years ago today, a small airplane nosed into the icy water at Point Barrow, Alaska, carrying Will Rogers to his death.

Most American adults bear a memory of hearing that tragic news and fondly recall the grinning Oklahoman who made the nation laugh. With the years he is fast growing into a U. S. legend.

Hollywood, where he worked and lived in his last years, recalls him as sometimes shrewd, sometimes humble, but always Will Rogers.

He played polo and earned $3,-500,000 in eight years from movies alone, but he maintained the common touch that was his trade mark. His favorite costume was blue denim pants, a leather jacket and a sloppy hat. Concerning his grammar, he said:

A Great Ribber
"Maybe ain't ain't so correct, but I notice that lots of folks who ain't usin' ain't ain't eatin'."

He was a great kiddier, but no practical joker on movie sets. Once he was given a dinner by his fellow workers, who jested that stepin fecht stole the Rogers pictures.

"Maybe so," he answered, "but I got a canyon out in the Santa Monica mountains that was paid for with pictures that Fetch stole stole from me."

Joel McCrea recalls that Rogers gave him his first big role, as son to the humorist in a picture. On location at Lake Tahoe, the young actor was playing his first scene with Rogers, but never could hear the right cue. Rogers took him aside.

"Look, young fella," he said, "this here is a pretty good script, but sometimes I find ways to improve it. Tell you what I'll do—every time I'm through talkin', I'll give you a nudge"

That's the way the picture was made: McCrea was poked before every line he spoke.

Few Topped Him
Few people ever topped Rogers. Studio Boss Winfield Sheehan was one. The humorist was making $200,000 per picture and thought he should choose his stories, like was delivered to the Rogers ranch. Will gazed at the stacks and figured he'd stick to the old system.

President Theodore Roosevelt stumped Will once. At a White House lunch, FDR said he had a "paying and patriotic job" for him. Rogers asked if the President was firing "some of the brain trust boys."

"No," was the answer. "I'm going to appoint you to collect the foreign war debts—and pay you on a commission basis."

Never Replaced
No one has replaced Will Rogers. Radio, with its boff, bang and zowie type of comedy seems to have killed off the kind of humor supplied by men like Mark Twain and Rogers. There is no one to match such Rogers quips as:

"I might have gone to West Point, but I was too proud to speak to a congressman."

"Communism to me is one-third practice and two-thirds explanation."

"Mexican President stopped gambling in Tia Juana and the whole town is left unemployed. It's just like they stopped lobbying in Washington."

Seventy-Six Boys And Girls Have Entries

Will Exhibit 124 Head Of Livestock In 4-H Show

Seventy-six 4-H club boys and girls have entered 124 head of livestock for the first 4-H County Livestock Show to be held Friday August 19 at the Missouri Pacific Stock Yards in Sedalia.

Four members have entered 10 head of sheep; fifteen have entered 57 head of hogs; twenty-seven entered 33 beef animals; fifteen have entered 19 dairy heifers and cows; and four have entered 4 milking Shorthorns. One colt has been entered.

Due to the large number of animals to be shown judging will start at 10:30 a. m. instead of 1 p. m., as formerly announced. This is necessary in order that judging may be completed in time to permit the exhibitors to take their animals from the County Show to the State Fair Grounds in the late afternoon, Friday.

The order of showing will be sheep, hogs, dairy cattle, milking Shorthorns, beef and colts.

Judges For Event

Judges of meat animals will be E. M. Woods, Livestock Director of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation and Charles Kyd, Extension Livestock Specialist of the University of Missouri. Homer Cloninger, Dairy Extension Specialist, University of Missouri, will judge the dairy animals and Milking Shorthorns.

This show is sponsored by the Pettis County Farm Bureau in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Service.

The excellent cooperation of Sedalia merchants, bankers, manufacturers and Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and individuals have provided prize money for all exhibitors. Special awards are being made by the Lions club, the Kiwanas club and the Rotary club of Sedalia. Exhibitors of each animal will receive a blue ribbon plus $3.00 or a red ribbon plus $2.00 or a white ribbon plus $1.00. Except that no exhibitor will receive more than $6.00 for the animals shown in one class.

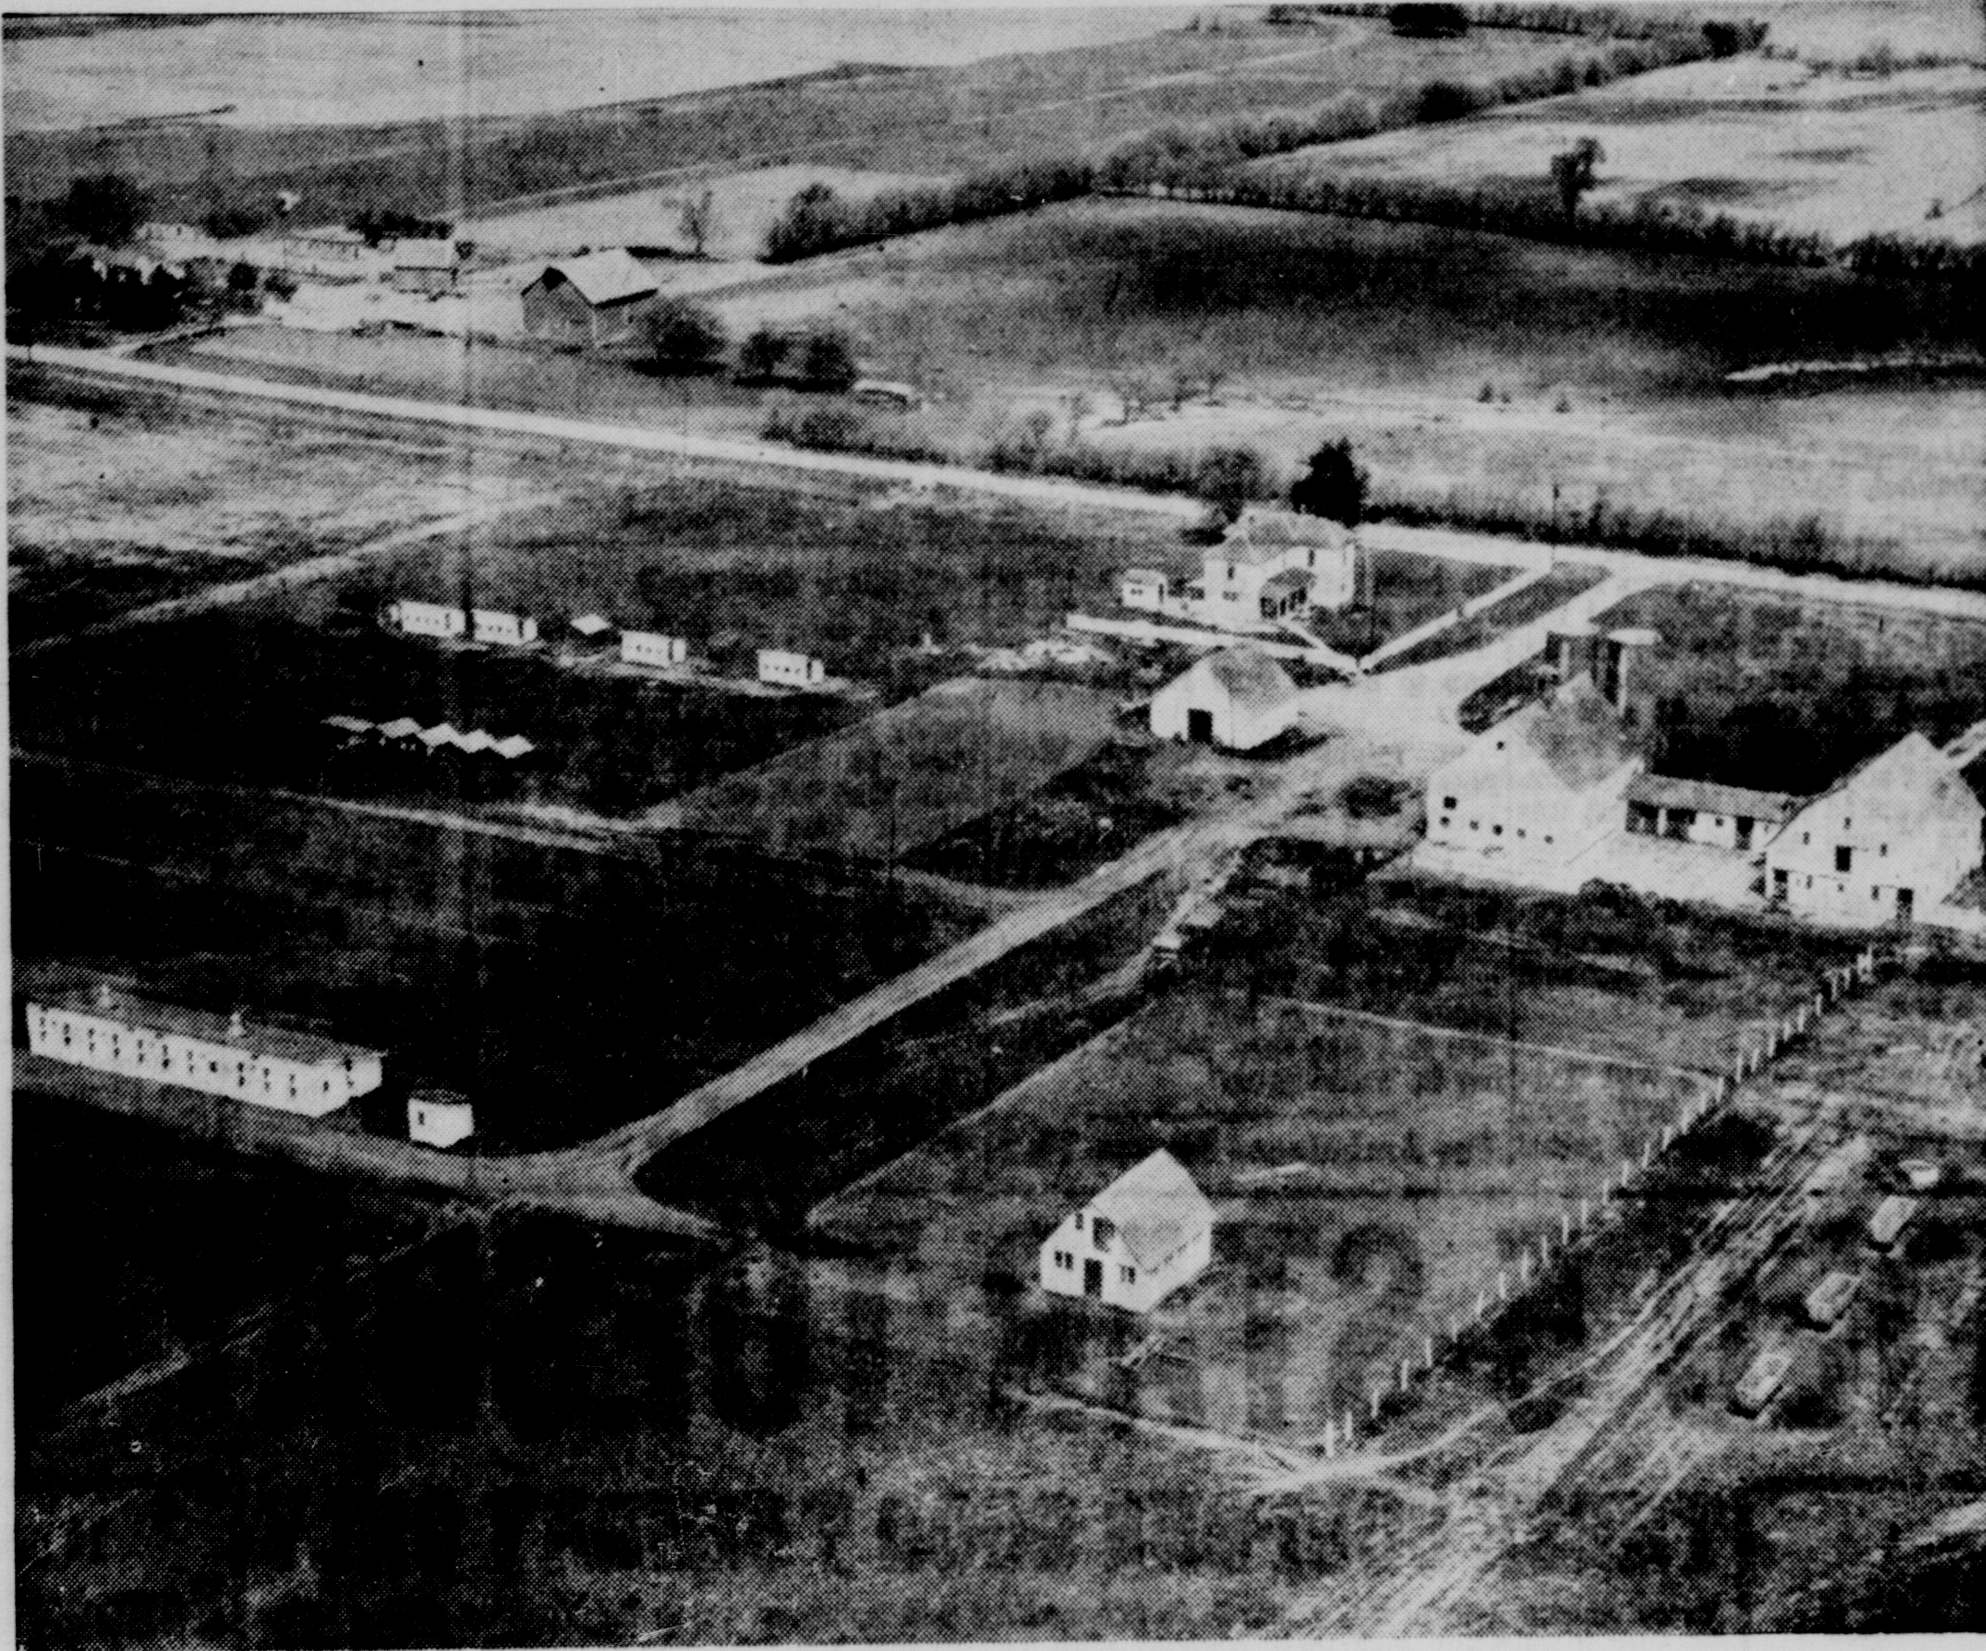

This show follows the Achievement Day's program at Convention Hall, Thursday, August 18, where exhibits of clothing, food, handicraft, vegetables, etc., will be exhibited. Cash awards amount to $50.00 will be awarded to clubs on the basis of the entries from the clubs. Blue ribbon awards will secure 3 points, red, 2 points and white 1 point.

The program at Convention Hall, Thursday starts at 8.30 with registration followed by judging, demonstrations, grooming, dress revue.

The public is invited to attend both events. Admission is free to each.

Mystery Farm Pictures in Central Missouri---

Whose farm is it?

Occupants of the above farm home may have wondered this spring about a plane buzzing low over their buildings. The picture explains it. The airplane pilot didn't know whose farm it was. The photographer didn't either. The two of them just flew around the Central Missouri area served by the Sedalia Democrat-Capital newspapers and took pictures. They couldn't take pictures of all the farms but they got as many good shots as possible during their flight time.

So about once a week hereafter, until the pictures run out, the Sedalia Democrat-Capital will print these farm home pictures as a news feature. The newspapers would like to know whose farm homes they are.

Hereafter from time to time the other mystery farm pictures will appear on the Democrat-Capital farm page. Watch for them. If one is your farm picture, come for the photograph.

Floyd Schoutn, a 25-year-old veteran, owns the farm that appeared in last Monday's Democrat and Tuesday's Capital newspapers. Floyd's mother, Mrs. C. S. Schoutn came to the office Tuesday to identify the farm for her son.

The farm is located about 11 miles west of Sedalia and the mailing address is Green Ridge, route 1. Mr. Schoutn, who spent 28 months in the infantry, mostly overseas, purchased his 212 acre farm through the GI Bill of Rights, February, 1947.

Mr. Schoutn is not married, but has plenty of help to operate his farm since his mother and dad are living with him. Mrs. Schoutn usually cans between three and four hundred quarts of fruit and vegetables and said she took turns with her husband in caring for the chickens.

Eight cows have to be milked two times a day. Floyd sells most of the milk at Emma. On this farm the crops consist mostly of wheat, corn and hay.

Mrs. Schoutn said she remembered when the plane buzzed over the farm to take an aerial photo of it, while she was preparing the noon meal. She reported that since the picture was taken, many improvements had been made on the property.

International Youth Exchange Student Coming to Missouri

The Agricultural Extension Office has been notified by Robert Clough, State 4-H Club Agent, that an International Youth Exchange student from France will arrive in Missouri in late August. The State Club office is looking for a farm home for him for September, October and November, and another for December, January and February.

Under the International Youth Exchange Program students from America are placed in homes in Europe and in exchange European students are placed in American homes.

The object of the program is to acquaint American agricultural students with our rural way of life, our methods and techniques, and our problems. It is hoped that better International relationships will grow out of this Youth Exchange Program.

Born in 1921

Claude Foucault, the French student coming to Missouri, was born in 1921, his address is Iutville La Guetard, Department of Leiret. His education includes five years of work equivalent to high school and two years in the Agricultural School of Cheomey in Montargie. He knows some English. Along with his parents he farms 150 hectares, the chief crops being grain and beets. Sheep is their chief livestock activity. Claude is especially interested in increasing his knowledge of cattle and sheep breeding.

Mr. Clough, State Agent, writes concerning placing this young man: "The family taking this delegate into the home are expected to provide board, room and some incidental spending money. He is expected to do some work. He is a student in training. He is not expected to serve in the capacity of a hired hand. Most interested families will understand the situation and give the boy a good home and expect the boy to earn his keep."

Any farm family interested in this program should contact the Agricultural Extension Office in Sedalia. Mr. Clough will visit all interested families and make definite arrangements with the best family.

Production On Eggs For July

Records received at the County Extension office on production of eggs per hen for July show that two-thirds of the flocks produced more than 15 eggs per hen. Less than 50% production should not be tolerated. The small flock, 30 hens, of Mrs. Linden Lee Jones average 19.21 eggs each for July. The 569 hen flock of Bagby-McFarrich averaged 19.11 eggs each. F. L. Bodenhamer's flock of 148 hens produced an average of 18.7 eggs each. Everett Vannoy's 120 mens averaged 15.8 eggs each.

Another flock of 139 hens averaged 14.9 eggs per hen and another flock of 312 hens the average laid per hen was 11.3.

The time is here to check upon the facilities for housing the laying flock this winter. Pullets hatched early are or will be coming into

Milk And Butterfat By 237 Cows During July

Two hundred thirty-seven cows were tested in July for milk and fat production in the Pettis County Dairy Herd Improvement Association as reported to the County Agent by James P. Kelly, Supervisor. These cows produced 168,728 pounds of milk and 7151.9 pounds of fat. The average milk production per cow for the month was 711.9 pounds and 30.2 pounds butter fat.

Caution On Alfalfa Seed

Crop From States West Of Missouri Short This Year

Farmers seeding alfalfa in Pettis county this fall may have trouble getting alfalfa seed of the variety that they desire. Apparently the alfalfa seed crop from the states just west of Missouri is very small this year and carryovers of seed from this area are also small.

Many varieties other than Kansas Common, which has probably been the most popular alfalfa in Missouri, can be expected to give good returns, says county agent Roy I. Coplen. All of the common alfalfas from states to the north production soon. Many people have found that pullets should be in the laying house when 5 to 10% are laying. Moving after this time usually results in a set back in production.

Some of the things is pays to provide are—3 to 4 square feet per hen, an open front on houses 20 or more feet deep. A straw loft makes the house much more comfortable due to a higher temperature and better moisture control. Drooping pits makes cleaning out the house easier. Its better on birds. Use of built up litter saves labor in cleaning out the house.

and west have given good results on yield and winter hardiness tests in Missouri, ranking with Kansas Common. Grimm alfalfa has also given consistent good results in Missouri.

More caution is advised in purchasing seed from the southwest, however. Much Argentina seed, which is unadapted this far north, has been used in Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California and seed from these plantings has always given poor results in this area, from both the standpoint of hay yield and winter killing. Common alfalfa seed from these states that is known to come from the more hardy native strains has proven satisfactory, so the use of seed from this southwestern area can be counted upon to give good results only if it is seed of verified origin.

South African and Peruvian alfalfa, as well as Argentine, have consistently not shown themselves to be hardy enough to withstand Missouri winters. In those cases where stands have survived winter weather these alfalfas have yielded below the native alfalfas grown in this country.

Those farmers who have fields infested with bacterial wilt will find it advisable to pay the extra price to get one of the new wilt resistant varieties of alfalfa, either Buffalo or Ranger. These varieties have not proven superior where wilt is not present, but if wilt is in the soil, the use of a wilt-resistant variety is the only successful way of combating the disease.

An Additional Allotment For Pettis County

To Encourage Permanent Pasture Improvements

An increase in the Pettis County Agricultural Conservation program funds for 1949 practice payments amounting to $2,000 has been received, reports Jas. A. Harvey, chairman of the Pettis county PMA committee.

The additional county allotment has been designated by the State PMA Committee to be used only for the purpose of encouraging farmers participating in the 1949 Farm Program to carry out additional units of the permanent pasture improvement practice in accordance with the required specifications.

Requests for this additional assistance must be filed with the county PMA committee no later than August 31, and no farm will be granted more than $75.00 additional assistance.

Primary Purpose

The primary purpose of the pasture improvement practice under the agricultural Conservation Program is to check erosion and depletion of the soil. But the real test of pasture improvement in dairy areas is the increase in milk production per acre. Here in Pettis county several farmers, including dairymen, have carried out this approved practice—the seeding of approved pasture mixtures and using limestone, phosphate, potash and other minerals—in recent years and they have reported noticeable increase in pasture carrying capacity, length of grazing period, and profitable results in meat and dairy production as well as the production it affords their soil from erosion.

This practice should prove of special interest to farmers at this time when we are entering a period of basic crop reduction and conversion to grasses and legumes, states Harvey, and we urge all interested farmers to contact the county PMA committee at the local office to discuss and make application for additional assistance in carrying out the pasture improvement practice on a small acreage on their farm.

Selection Of 4-H Judging Teams

The County 4-H Dairy and Livestock Judging teams which will represent Pettis county at the District Judging contests this month have been selected.

The Dairy Judging Team consists of J. D. Schlobohm of the Oak Grove 4-H club, Earl D. Thompson of the Quisenberry club, Robert Yeater of the Oak Grove club, and Gerald Schlobohm from the Lone Elm club who will serve as alternate.

The dairy team was selected upon the basis of their judging ability at the District Dairy Judging Training meeting which was held in Pettis county last July 6.

Emmett Fairfax, Billy Riley, Duane Leiter and Jesse Fairfax, all of the South Abell 4-H club, were selected to make up the Livestock Judging Team this year. Jesse Fairfax will be the alternate. These four boys, in the order listed, had the first, second, third and fourth highest scores at the County Livestock Judging Training meeting held on July 20th. The members of these two judging teams were selected upon the basis of both their judging ability and their ability to give reasons on animals they judge.

The District Judging Contests for West Central Missouri in which these teams will participate will be held at the State Fair on August 22nd. The winning teams from each District will compete against each other for top honors at the State 4-H Judging Contest at Columbia on October 1.

Tour Be Made To Five Farms On August 30

Balanced Farm Practices Are To Be Viewed

On Tuesday, August 30th, Pettis county folks are cordially invited to join in a tour to five different farms where Balanced Farming practices are being carried out. To be seen on the route will be two modern dairy setups; a permanent pasture that has been cultivated, fertilized and reseeded; a complete water management system; a farm home that has been remodeled and a clean ground system for hogs that includes three fields with a pond for fresh water.

Dairy Buildings at Bagbys and Fickens

The starting place for the tour will be the J. H. Bagby farm 1 1/2 miles west of Camp Branch store. Mr. Bagby has a new loafing barn and a separate building which contains a six cow milking parlor, feed room, wash room and milk room. Forrest Miller is the farm manager. The second stop will be at W. J. (Bill) Fickens 1 mile south of Smithton. Mr. Fickens has remodeled an old barn to provide loafing space and an up-to-date milking room. Connected to this milking parlor is a modern milk room made of concrete blocks where the milk is cooled and prepared for market.

To Eat Picnic Dinner at Olen Monsees And Will Also See Improved Pasture There

Just a half mile south of Fickens is another dairy farm owned and operated by Olen Monsees. Mr. Monsees has a modern dairy barn that will house 34 cows in stanchions. However one of the two main parts of interest for the tour is a part of a permanent pasture that he plowed up last fall, limed, fertilized with raw rock phosphate and reseeded with a recommended mixture of grasses and legumes. Also of interest is that time will be taken to eat dinner under the shade trees at Monsees. Each family should bring their basket dinner and can eat in their cars or under the shade of the trees on the Monsees lawn. Plans are being made to have drinking facilities available.

Home Improvement, Terracing System and Poultry at Runge

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Runge started making plans to remodel their kitchen in 1946. Now cabinets are in place, a new linoleum floor cover has been laid and water from a new deep well is now piped into the house.

The Runge's also started on their first terrace outlets in 1946 and now have 6 outlets built and 45 acres terraced.

A new 20 by 40 poultry house has been built and the pullets were housed early in August.

Three Clean Hog Pastures at Arnolds

C. S. Arnold who lives 3 miles west of Hughesville has three hog pastures, none of which drain across each other. With that arrangement he can rotate his pigs from year to year and keep them on pastures that are free of diseases and worm eggs. Water from all three lots is provided by a new pond.

Most sea birds are known to drink salt water in preference to fresh, and the National Wildlife Federation finds that captive gulls may die without it.

Swimming was the most popular part of the camp program. This picture shows only a part of the group occupying the pool in order to escape the afternoon heat.

Deck tennis, a new sport similar to volley ball, was another popular sport at the 4-H Camp.

Tri-County 4-H Camp At State Park

Pettis County Had 46 Of The Club Members There

The Pettis County 4-H'ers who attended the Tri-County 4-H camp at Knob Noster, State Park from July 29 to August 1, have returned home tired but happy following the camping period chuck full of activities.

There were 64 Pettis county club members originally scheduled to attend from Pettis county but due to various reasons the number was reduced to 46 attending.

The camp got off to a wet start due to the rainstorm which prevailed during the late afternoon delaying some of the outdoor activities. However after the storm abated the campers were in full spirits for the delayed swimming period.

There was no room for late risers at camp as the program started at 6:30 each morning. The campers enjoyed various activities which included swimming, handicraft, use of firearms, conservation, organized recreation, party games and the publishing of a camp newspaper.

Services Were Held

A chapel service was held both Sunday morning and evening, following the Sunday evening service there was an impressive candlelighting ceremony in which all participated.

One of the highlights of the camp was a ball game Sunday afternoon between the 4-H'ers and the leaders and agents.

Club members attending from Pettis county were: Alice Walton, Marilyn Miller, Dorothy Rayl, Virginia Fairfax, Elinor VanDyke, Viola Curry, Ann Heffernan, Mary Jo Welliver, Dorothy Mewes, Barbara Reid, Betty Jo Reid, Lois Ann Smith, Susan Wade, Rita Jackson, Anna Jane Butterwick, Virginia Curry, Virginia Landes, Ann Harding, Una Hudson, Bonnie Gorrell, Shirley Eichholz, Ed Hoehns, Don McCune, Joe Reine, Joe Welliver, Marion Edmundson, Ralph Viebrock, Sylvan Demand, Billy Hammond, Darrell Ford, James Ellis, Billy Alltop, Billy Clemons, Delmar Fisher, John Greer, Norman Morton, Charles Pace, Howard Finke, Clinton Reid, Pete Siegel, Lyman Lyne, Donald Smith, Tommy Curry, Richard Rayl, Bobby Welliver.

The leaders from Pettis county who attended camp were: Mrs. John Curry, Ella Dee Runge, Glen Johnson and Norman Rayl.

Barley Good For Fall Pasture

Several inquiries have come to the County Agricultural Extension office on varieties of barley recommended for Pettis county. Two varieties are recommended: Reno and Michigan Winter. These are both bearded types.

Some essentials in the production of high yields of barley should be of interest.

Barley responds to the use of lime as much, if not more, than any other grain crop. A firm well packed seed bed is needed. A well prepared fall seeded alfalfa seed bed makes a good seed bed for barley. High yields require a high state of fertility. Barley will respond as much or more to a liberal application of commercial fertilizer high in phosphate and carrying potash on land low in potash. Treating of the seed pays big dividends. The chemical treatment will help control a number of the diseases that bother barley. Barley does best on well drained land.

Barley seeded in late August and early September will furnish a lot of good fall pasture. Eight to 10

pecks of seed per acre is the recommended seeding rate. The heavier rate is desirable if maximum fall pasture is desired. If the crop is not, to be used for pasture, seeding should be delayed until late September. August or early September seeding likely will result in a growth so great by winter that the crop will smother out.

Traffic Cases In Court Today

Police court was a busy place this morning with Judge Harry O. Berry ordering the forfeiture of bonds of persons charged with various traffic violations who failed to appear in court when their names were called. Charges ranged from overtime parking to careless and reckless driving.

Seventeen overtime parkers forfeited cash bonds of $1.00 each when they didn't appear.

Three speeders, Lawrence Landreth, Houstonia, E. R. Grinstead, 415 North Prospect avenue, and Henry W. Peyton, Sedalia, all forfeited bonds of $10.00 each.

Homer Curnutt, Windsor, forfeited a cash bond of $25.00 for careless and reckless driving.

Tommy Rothgeb, Ottumville, forfeited a $10.00 bond for blocking an alley and sidewalk between Main and Second streets on Missouri avenue.

Carlton C. Carter, Marshall, forfeited $5.00 for running a stop sign at Main street and Missouri avenue.

Bill Schmitz, St. Genevieve, forfeited $5.00 for making a left turn on Ohio avenue.

Robert Cunningham, Hughesville, forfeited $2.00 for blocking an alley.

Back-to-School Penney Day

Around about 9:00 o'clock this morning it looked like all the junior citizens had gathered on the corner of Third street and Ohio avenue at Penney's store.

It was the annual "Back to School Party" of the Penney store and between 1,500 and 2,000 children were on hand to march down in parade style to the Fox and Liberty theatres. In charge of the party were Francis Diefenbach and Marvin Hannigan.

Girls wore everything from jeans and loud shirts to dresses with ruffles and ribbons and most of the boys were in jeans and T-shirts, many with bright letters across the front, reading "St. Louis Cardinals," "Post 16, American Legion" and various other things. Some of the boys, like the girls, were dressed up in party fashion.

There were many Negro children.

The two and a half hour show was a Laurel and Hardy picture, "Swiss Miss," and a Bugs Bunny cartoon. Each child also received a book on the states of the union, with information about each state and its famous people.

After the crowd of children had paraded to the show and gone in, late comers could be seen running down Ohio avenue in groups of two's or three's, from Penney's, to one of the two shows.

The National Wildlife Federation is an alliance of state federations which are in turn made up of federated organizations within the states such as sportsmen, club women, nature societies, youth, farmer, business, and social groups concerned with the conservation and restoration of outdoor resources.

Akron Entrant Won The Soap Box Derby

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 14—(P)—For the third time in the last five tries, an Akron entrant today won the crown of All-American soap box derby champion.

Racing yesterday over the National Derby Downs course where just last week he won the Akron district finals, 15-year-old Freddy Derks rolled his black walnut speedster to victory over 147 other entrants from 40 states, Panama and Alaska.

The youngster, who carved the body of his mount from an 80-foot walnut tree, has a $5,000 college scholarship coming for his victory.

A crowd of upward of 50,000 sat in intense heat along Derby Downs as the host of champions battled it out in 78 trials. The kids were sponsored by local newspapers.

There Goes the Ball And Another Yankee Run

Pirates Gave Cardinals a Series Loss

Bucs Won Saturday And Sunday, But Dropped Opener

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates proved to be one club that wouldn't stay impressed with recent St. Louis Cardinal batting attacks — and they handed the high flying Redbirds their first series loss since mid-July when the Philadelphia Phillies took two out of three games from the Cardinals.

Cliff Chambers blanked the Birds on three hits for a 4-0 victory at Sportsman's Park yesterday. The Bucs took the Saturday night contest 6-3 after dropping the series opener Friday night 8 to 2.

Chambers was sharp — so sharp that after Stan Musial hit his twenty-ninth double of the season in the third inning the only man to get on base was Enos Slaughter by way of four balls in the sixth frame.

Homer Cinched it For Pittsburgh Ralph Kiner's thirty-first home run of the season accounted for the final Pittsburgh tally after errors by Del Rice and Howard Pollet let to previous runs score.

Pollet was socked for seven hits in his five innings on the mound. These included Bockman's double and Stan Rojek's triple in addition to Kiner's four bagger.

The defeat toppled the Redbirds from first place again, putting them a full game back of the Brooklyn Dodgers who defeated the Boston Braves 7 to 2 yesterday. It was the final home game of the Cardinals. They now start a road trip that will put them in every city on the National league circuit before they return here in September.

Pollet had won six straight games before he was bested by Chambers. His last loss was a 3-0 affair by the Cincinnati Reds on July 2.

Browns Rest at Bottom The Browns, still resting at the bottom of the American league standings, dropped two games to the Detroit Tigers in the Motor City 6 to 2 and 4 to 3.

It closed the Brownie road trip with four victories and 16 defeats.

Rightthander Fred Hutchinson gave the Browns just six hits as he coasted to the first game victory. His hopes for a shutout vanished when Jack Graham hit his eighteenth homer of the season in the fifth inning. They got the other run in the seventh.

Ned Garver gave up 10 hits in the nightcap, but it was a first base line blow by Aaron Robinson with the bases loaded that beat him. The Browns and apparently even Robinson thought the ball was foul, but umpire Bill Summers said fair and the three base runners reached home safely although Robinson stopped at first.

The Browns ope nat Sportsman's park against the Chicago White Sox tonight with Cliff Fannin slated to pitch.

Opinions on Big Seven Are Same as Last Year

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 15—(P)—The 1949 football race in the Big Seven Conference is going to be just about a carbon copy of last year's in the opinion of the loop coaches.

Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas are going to finish in the one-two-three spots, just like they did last year.

Nebraska will be fourth and Colorado fifth, exchanging the places they held at the finish last year. Iowa State and Kansas State follow in sixth and seventh places.

The coaches made their selections by secret ballot yesterday as they wound up a two-day meeting with members of the Midwestern Intercollegiate Officials Association.

House Foreign Affairs Committee Favors Full Amount For European Aid

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The House Foreign Affairs committee today approved the full amount asked by President Truman for western Europe arms aid. The committee, however, split it up between cash and contract authority.

The committee also refused to include any authorization for an arms-aid program for non-Communist China.

It split the western Europe fund into two allotments, one to be used up to next March 31 and the other to finance the program between March 31 and June 30, 1950.

The president had requested $1,160,990,000 to help Atlantic pact nations arm against aggression. He wanted it all in cash.

Committee Decision
The committee decided to give it this way:

Cash: $498,130,000 to be used up to next March 31 and $157,710,000 to be used between March 31 and June 30.

Contract Authorization: $428,100,000 up to March 31 and $77,050,000 from March 31 to June 30.

The House committee acted shortly after Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Dulles (R-N.Y.) had moved to share $160,990,000 off the European arms program.

The two senators also proposed a series of amendments aimed at meshing the program into a North Atlantic defense plan to be drafted under terms of the recently approved security treaty.

Purpose of Amendment
Vandenberg told a news conference the amendments "he and Dulles have drafted would permit recapture of any equipment furnished by this country "if the program goes sour."

They also would permit Congress, acting by concurrent resolution which does not require a presidential signature, to end aid to any nation at any time.

Vandenberg and Dulles proposed to limit aid to western European countries to $1,000,000,000 instead of the $1,160,990,000 proposed in the pending bill.

Injured in Fall Off Bicycle

Nancy Ann Yessen, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Yessen, 1412 South Sneed avenue, was injured about 6:00 o'clock Sunday evening when she fell backward off a bicycle, striking the back of her head. Nancy was about six blocks from home when the accident happened and was able to get up after the fall, but as she was being taken to her home in a car she became blinded and before reaching her home was unconscious.

Dr. Gordon Stauffacher was called and suggested Mr. and Mrs. Yessen take the child to the St. Luke's children's hospital in Kansas City. Nancy has regained consciousness and is some better today, but her condition is still serious.

Balance Farm Association Group Picnic

Marketing Director State Farm Bureau Gives an Address

Relations between the farmer and city dweller must be improved, E. M. Woods, of Columbia, stressed during an impressive talk on social and economic problems to members of the Pettis County Balance Farming Association, attending a picnic at Liberty Park, Sunday evening.

Mr. Woods, who speaks the farmer's language and calls a space a space, is a livestock and marketing director of Missouri Farm Bureau Federation, and a former Jackson county farm agent. He is well known in Pettis county as a livestock specialist, having attended livestock sales and shows here on numerous occasions.

Members of Pettis County Balanced Farming Association, of which Merle Vaughan is associate agent and Fred Hoos chairman, arrived at the picnic grounds with their baskets loaded with fried chicken, salads and desserts. One of the main reasons for holding these entire membership get-togethers is for the farmers to get acquainted with fellow members, and to add to their knowledge of farming by hearing farm speeches.

Real Necessities
Charles Arnold introduced the main speaker, who related many points on why he thought prices of commodities were what they are today. Mr. Woods said the real necessities are food, shelter and clothing.

Speaking on the high prices of food people are concerned about, he said they let their money buy their wants first, such as some luxuries, then with only a few dollars left out of their salary to purchase food, the food is too high. Shoppers are reminded every day of the food prices, simply by having to buy groceries often, but are not reminded often of the high price of clothing, etc., because they are not bought as often, the speaker related.

Gives an Example
For an example, he told of the price of a hog sold on foot, and compared the price of the animal after it had been handled by labor unions on down the line before it reached the butcher shop. He said if the wheat in a 15-cent loaf of bread was free, it would still cost the buyer 12 cents, or if the milk was free, an 18-cent quart of milk would still cost 11 cents, this being attributed to expenses of labor, hauling, etc.

Vaughan Reviews Program
Mr. Vaughan reviewed the things the members have been working on since the association became effective two years ago. The agent said the fifty members in the group built 64 terrace outlets and 21 miles of terraces last year, which were 64 per cent of outlets and 38 per cent of terraces built out of 2500 farms in the county.

He said in 1949 the association has already built 63 outlets and more terraces than last year. Five farm buildings have been remodeled and 24 members have made plans to remodel farm homes. Mr. Vaughan said 10 farmers have raised pigs on clean ground and have raised 15 per cent more pigs per litter and got their pigs to market 30 days earlier than other folks in the association, who raised pigs in old lots.

The associate agent said last year 12 members brought in 39 soil samples and this year 17 have already brought in 60 samples to the office.

Roy I. Coplen, county agent, reported that the parents were rescued after the car lodged on a gravel bar.

A. M. Harlan is Probate Judge

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith appointed A. M. Harlan of Sedalia as Pettis county probate judge today. Harlan, a Democrat, succeeds the late Jacob E. Smith, a Republican.

Ogden L. Romine of Milan was appointed Sullivan county judge succeeding the late Floyd Cleeton. Both are Democrats.

Judge A. M. Harlan stated today he had not been officially notified of the appointment and did not care to make any comment as yet. He said until he was notified he would withhold naming a deputy.

Judge Harlan served one term as probate judge of Pettis county, being elected in the fall of 1926 and took office on January 1, 1927. He served until January 1, 1931 at which time Judge Smith took office. Judge Smith served from that time until his death Monday, August 8, 1949.

Call Bradley, Cannon 'American Cannibals'

BUCHAREST, Manila, Aug. 15.—(P)—The current issue of the Cominform Bulletin, out today, calls Gen. Omar Bradley, U. S. Army Chief of Staff, and Rep. Cannon (D-Mon) "American cannibals."

The unusual aspect is that the mother of one of the persons celebrating the anniversary will be on hand for the event.

It will be the 50th wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Linville of Fair Play. And Mrs. Linville's mother, 86-year-old Mrs. A. B. Brown, of Oklahoma City, will attend the celebration.

The Linvilles were married Aug. 16, 1899, at Sumner, Mo.

Mrs. Linville is 68 and her husband is 79.

Gas Truck Drivers' Strike Continues

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—(P)—Police had orders to escort gasoline trucks today as a Chicago area gas truck drivers' strike went into its fifth day.

Lieutenant Patrick J. Condon, of the Englewood police district, said, "We've got orders to convoy gas trucks through our district today if it looks like there's going to be any trouble."

There was trouble in the area yesterday. Thomas Bowman, 38, reported to police that he was twice halted and threatened while driving. He was given police protection.

Baby, Swept Out Of Car Drowns

JOPLIN, Mo., Aug. 15.—(P)—Donald Gene Keith, 16 months old, drowned here late Saturday night when swept out of his parents' auto by a flash flood.

The baby was asleep on the back seat as the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Keith, crossed a low-water bridge.

The rushing waters carried the child away and his body was recovered yesterday two miles downstream.

The parents were rescued after the car lodged on a gravel bar.

Crowned by Vice President Alben Barkley

Jokes With Crowd As He Refers to 'Queen of My Own'

PADUCAH, Ky., Aug. 15.—(P)—"Operation Veep" went off on schedule here yesterday — without a hitch, romantic or otherwise.

With upwards of 10,000 persons on hand for the rededication of the Paducah-McCracken county airport as Barkley field, Vice President Alben Barkley made no reference to his rumored romance with a St. Louis widow.

Instead, the 71-year-old Barkley made jocular reference to his rumored romance with Mrs. Carleton Hadley, St. Louis widow, while crowning his six-year-old granddaughter, Dorothy Anne Barkley, "queen of queens," he solemnly told the crowd:

"I was quoted as saying that I was going to crown a queen of my own some day. I couldn't say then what I had in mind, although there was much speculation."

A Dramatic Situation

Then, pausing dramatically while Mrs. Hadley sat intent on the speaker's platform nearby, he continued:

"I am happy to announce that here is the little queen of my own," and smiling broadly, he stooped and placed a crown and a kiss on his granddaughter.

The crowd roared. Barkley's remarks that some day he "might crown a queen of my own" was made when he crowned the queen at the Culpepper, Va., bicentennial celebration recently.

Speculation on Friendship

Speculation on the vice president's friendship with Mrs. Hadley arose after he attended a baseball game with her some time ago in St. Louis.

Mrs. Hadley and her 17-year-old daughter, Anne, were guests of the vice president here over the weekend.

The vice president and Mrs. Hadley returned to St. Louis in his private plane late yesterday.

Later the vice president flew on to Washington with Mr. and Mrs. Max Truitt, his son-in-law and daughter.

Fisherman Drowns

ST. ELIZABETH, Mo., Aug. 15.—(P)—Thirty-two-year-old Herman Rehagen drowned last night while fishing in Big Tavern creek about six miles north of here.

Marine Explorer Begins an Attempt to go Down 6000 Ft.

SMUGGLER'S COVE, Calif., Aug. 15.—(P)—Marine Explorer Otis Barton today began an attempt to descend 6,000 feet into the ocean depths, deeper than man has ever gone before.

The 48-year-old Boston scientist, after two days of delay from mechanical trouble with his bentho-scope, and rough water, began dropping in his steel sphere, the Bentho-scope, at 10:39 a. m.

As the diving bell descended it was halted at about every 200 feet so that telephone and power cables could be lashed to the main 1/2-inch steel cable.

The Bentho-scope reached 1,000 feet and was halted temporarily for minor adjustment of power lines.

Germans Hand Reds Fourth Major Defeat

Voters Give The Right Wing Parties Majority

By Brack Curry

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 15.—(P)—Western Germany has handed its right wing parties a mandate to direct the new federal republic for the crucial next four years.

More than 24,000,000 Germans swarmed to the polls yesterday, in their first free election since Hitler took over in 1933. They handed Communism its fourth major defeat in western Europe since the war. France, Italy and west Berlin said "no" to the Reds in earlier elections.

Western Germany's rebuff marks the retreat of Communism to the river Elbe where the Red army stands guard.

West German voters also rejected socialism and extreme right pro-Nazi groups, giving the control of the 402-member parliament to the free enterprise parties whose policies have the confidence of American officials.

A Few Street Fights

In bright, hot weather, the people strolled to the heavily-policed polls in sober family groups. There were a few street fights in some cities but for the most part voting was orderly.

Topping the popular vote with 7,356,025 were the Conservative Christian Democrats.

Close behind with 6,932,303 were the Social Democrats who want to nationalize big industries. They closely resemble Britain's ruling Labor party.

The Free Democrats, who favor the free enterprise system with no reservations, surged into third place with 2,827,948 votes.

By joining with the Christian Democrats they can assure a controlling bloc in parliament and will be able to form a conservative cabinet.

Communists Spurned

Trailing the field of the major parties were the Communists who slumped from ten per cent of the popular vote in 1946 state elections to about six per cent — 1,360,469 votes.

Even Max Reimann, fiery chief of the Communist party in west Germany, was spurned by his home district.

Rejected by the voters, Reimann will nevertheless probably be named to the parliament as a member from North Rhine-Westphalia under the proportional representation system.

Parliamentary seats allotted to the parties on the basis of completed election returns:

Election To Vote On Reservoir

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 15.—(P)—Kirksville will vote tomorrow on a proposal to establish a water supply reservoir on Big creek.

The measure, if approved, will authorize the city to issue $500,000 in revenue bonds to finance the project. The bonds would be retired from earnings of the water department.

The proposed dam would impound a lake of about 600 acres and make possible a recreation area. At present the city gets its water from the Chariton river.

The appointment was made by Governor Forrest Smith. Harlan a Democrat, succeeds Judge Smith, Republican, who was serving his fifth term in office.

Large Crowd at Lions Club Air Show Sunday

U. S. Air Forces Jetcraft Unable To Make Appearance

The annual air show, which was sponsored by the Sedalia Lions club at the Sedalia Municipal airport Sunday, was attended by an estimated coming and going crowd of better than 7,500 persons. The Lions committee members in charge reported they felt it was a success in getting central Missourians acquainted with the municipal field and entertained by flying events which included a parachute jump and an exhibition of model aircraft.

Several thousand persons were disappointed when jet aircraft from the U. S. air forces failed to make their appearance over the field. The planes were routed out of Scott Field, Ill., but due to an overcast and thunder-showers which surrounded the area Flight Leader Lieut. Humphries felt it advisable not to come into this area with that type of aircraft.

Still Experimental Planes

Former Army air force pilots explained the jet planes were still in the experimental stage and chances would be taken in trying to bring such craft through the overcast at the speeds they travel. It would have been different with more proven aircraft they explained, such as the transport planes of the type which were flying south of the field in a formation about 4:00 o'clock. Those planes were Air Force Reserve stationed at Fairfax Field, Kansas and were returning to their base from summer training at Atterbury Field, Columbus, Ind.

The formation was that of the 442nd Troop Carrier wing at Fairfax, of which several Sedalia pilots are members and were in the formation. There were 32 planes in the formation. The show included contests of balloon bursting, bomb dropping, formation flying, paper cutting in the air by the small planes, acrobatics by Jack Funk, a "hot-rod" happy exhibition of how not to fly and model plane demonstrations in which more than 20 small planes were flown.

A Parachute Jump

Danny Willis, parachute packer at the Kansas City Municipal airport made a parachute jump at better than 1,500 feet and landed on the air strip in front of the crowd. He dropped from the plane piloted by Sam Tuck for nearly 500 feet before his first chute opened. He used a second chute just before he hit the ground to cushion his fall and to help from pulling him across the flying field.

Expenses for the show were paid for through money obtained in the sale of soft drinks and hot dogs. Jack Funk's Air Service furnished the planes and gasoline to provide the air entertainment and to carry passengers over the field and over Sedalia.

Expects to Start Channel Swim Tuesday

DOVER, England, Aug. 15.—(P)—Shirley May France expects to start her channel swim late tonight or early tomorrow.

Harry Boudakian, coach of the 17-year-old Massachusetts mermaid, said she might cross tonight to Cape Gris Nez, France, and start the battle with the swift waters of the English Channel on the first good tide about midnight.

The sea was calm this morning. Conditions looked ideal for Shirley May's attempt to conquer the treacherous 21 miles separating England from the continent.

Jack Funk's Air Service furnished the planes and gasoline to provide the air entertainment and to carry passengers over the field and over Sedalia.

Author Better, But Still Critical

ATLANTA, Aug. 15.—(P)—Novelist Margaret Mitchell appeared today to be "somewhat better, though still in critical condition," a member of the family reported.

The spokesman said the author of "Gone With the Wind" had been given a blood transfusion and was being fed through a tube.

X-rays yesterday showed the 43-year-old writer received a fractured skull and fractured pelvis when struck down by an automobile Thursday night.

Bellied Into the Atlantic Off Coast Of Ireland; 49 of 58 Occupants Saved

GALWAY, Ireland, Aug. 15.—(P)—Its fuel exhausted, an American four-engined air liner bellied into the Atlantic off western Ireland in darkness early today. Nine of its 58 occupants were killed and the rest were saved in a dramatic sea-air rescue.

Among those saved was Ruth Nichols, 48, noted American aviator.

The big Skymaster, bound from Rome to New York with 47 Italian emigrants to Venezuela and 11 Americans aboard, overshot Shannon airport. Another American airliner tried to escort it back to Shannon, but the Sky Master's gasoline gave out and it plopped into the calm sea 15 miles off the Irish coast.

British and American transport planes guided surface vessels in the rescue operations.

Nine Americans in Crew
Nine of the Americans aboard were crew members and two were employees of Transocean Airlines, owners of the plane.

Ten hours after the plane dropped through a cloud bank into the sea, the British trawler Stalberg pulled into Galway harbor with 49 survivors. The Irish steamer Lanahorne had helped her in the rescue work.

One American crewman was killed. The other eight dead were passengers, according to Otis Nelson, president of Transocean Airlines.

Nelson identified the dead crewman as radio officer Herbert Asbel of Brooklyn, N. Y. Survivors said he was killed while he was trying to leave the plane. Apparently he was struck by a piece of the plane's broken tail.

Radio Blanked Out
When the plane was approaching Shannon, Asbel's radio equipment was blanked out by atmospheric conditions, and this caused the plane to overshoot the airport. Over the Atlantic, the plane went down so gently, the survivors said, that they were not even thrown from their seats.

The only woman passenger, an Italian, was reported to be among the dead.

The pilot, Capt. Edward C. Bessey of Wethersfield, Conn., is a veteran of 19 years flying experience.

"I had fuel for 11½ hours of flight — a reserve of more than three hours — but it was all gone," Bessey said on his arrival here. "So I sent word back to prepare for ditching."

No Panic
There was no panic among the passengers. They buckled their lifebelts calmly and strapped themselves into their seats for an expected crash.

The passengers helped inflate the four life rafts. As the plane settled into the water they scurried out in an orderly manner.

Bessey said he ordered the American crewmen to leave the floundering craft last. They obeyed.

"I saw Asbel standing on the fuselage," Bessey said. "Either a piece of the tail which broke off or some other wreckage struck him and he was knocked off and drowned."

Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Derr of San Lorenzo, Calif., were the two non-revenue passengers. Derr is South American sales manager for Transocean. Both were rescued uninjured. They emphasized there was no panic.

Took News Calmly
"Everybody took the news calmly — surprisingly so," said Mrs. Derr.

She said American stewardess Luigina Cerabona — who spoke Italian — "was wonderful to the passengers."

From the surface of the sea, crewmen of the trawler Stalberg watched the plane drop toward the water.

"We saw it with all its landing lights on," said first mate Dudley Davis. "It glided across our bow — it looked slow — and skidded into the water. All the lights went out."

Davis said it was too dark to attempt immediate rescue and the trawler stood by until dawn.

Will Our Economic Gro wth be Stunted by Heavier Taxation?

By Bruce Biossat

Thomas B. McCabe, chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, believes our economic growth may eventually be stifled if we don't reduce income taxes so Americans will be more venturesome with their savings.

McCabe, a Republican is a former Pennsylvania banker and manufacturer. This is his first important utterance since he became the chairman.

Undoubtedly there will be many efforts to dismiss the statement as just another business man's blast against high taxes. It's true, of course, that business has always wailed about the "ruinous" effects of income levies. From the start each new boost in rates has been opposed as certain to destroy initiative

But the fact that the American economy has continued to grow and develop through all these increases should not blind us to the possibility that the arguments may at some point become valid.

On the day McCabe's statement appeared, the Census Bureau reported a total U. S. tax bill for fiscal 1948 of $54,500,000,000. That is close to 25 per cent of the national income.

When a fourth of the country's income is being siphoned out of the economic stream into government, isn't it reasonable to examine carefully the effect this drain is having on our productive system?

It may be trite to say it, but it is after all our economy which supports our various governmental enterprises. We cannot indefinitely expand the latter without having regard for the continued productiveness of the former.

Government cannot live on a sluggish, stagnating economy. And that is what worries McCabe. He contends that risk-taking by American investors has been discouraged by federal tax policies.

He especially would like to see an end to double taxation of corporate dividends. He thinks this would greatly speed the flow of savings into investments and help to push ahead the country's frontiers in technology and production.

A thorough review of taxes and their relation to the economy is long overdue. Congress has talked about it for years but has taken no real action. Last year the House passed a general tax revision bill, but it was a cluttered affair that did little to end the confusion on major points. And it died in the Senate.

A full-scale assault on the tax problem ought to be high on the congressional agenda for 1950.
We've been drifting long enough.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Justice Douglas Blasted by Soviets on Trip in Iran

By Robert S. Allen

(Ed. Not — While Drew Pearson is on brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by his old partner, Robert S. Allen.)

WASHINGTON, Aug 15—Supreme court justice William O. Douglas found himself in a perplexing crossfire during his recent mountain climbing trip in the hinterlands of Iran (ancient Persia).

On one hand he was the target of Soviet blasts as a "big devil spy," and on the other of Iranian censorship and iron-handed military control.

The Russian fulminations were publicized.
But the iron curtain that Iran slammed down on Douglas has come to light only since his return to the U. S.

Shah Mohammed Riza Pahlevi, who comes to the U. S. in November, personally ordered the blackout on Douglas.

This is the untold story:

From American officials in Iran, Douglas learned that desperate famine conditions prevail in Azerbaijan, northeast province that adjoins Russia. A combination of extreme winter and severe spring drought had destroyed crops and most of the herds of the area. Hundreds have died of hunger. To the outrage of American authorities, the Iranian government has done very little to ameliorate the tragic situation

In one notorious instance, even that little was looted for personal gains

The military commander of the district diverted a 400-ton shipment of relief grain to private traders and pocketed the proceeds

U. S. officials are profoundly concerned about the explosive Azerbaijan situation because it plays squarely into Communist hands. Even under normal conditions, the historic area is one of the critical tinderboxes of the world.

Azerbaijan was occupied for several years by the Red army, which built a number of roads and made strenuous efforts to woo the tribesmen. Large Red combat patrols still make occasional penetrations. Also, Russian agents abound and are making the most of the Iranian government's incompetence, neglect and corruption.

Douglas' itinerary included a visit to Tabriz, capital of Azerbaijan. The day before he was to fly there, he had lunch with the shah. The young ruler talked a glowing line of reform and national development. But he froze up when Douglas mentioned casually his impending trip to Tabriz

Two hours later, the U. S. embassy was officially notified that the shah had barred Douglas from flying to Azerbaijan, northwest province that adjoins Russia.

Request for an explanation for this extraordinary action brought the reply, "evil reports are emanating from there. The reports are unfavorable to the shah and the government"

Note: Although receiving huge oil royalties, Iranian government tried to shake down the U. S. for 200,000 bushels of free grain for famine relief

Practical Joker

New York's representative Vito Marcantonio follows a militant leftist line, but he has his light moments.

Stalking into the Democratic cloakroom, he entered a phone booth near a group of lounging congressmen. Leaving the booth door open so he could be heard, Marcantonio said to the operator, "I want Moscow, Russia, person-to-person call. I want to talk to Premier Josef Stalin. Make it snappy."

The listening congressmen perked up their ears

"What's that, operator?" yelled Marcantonio.
"You say the premier is busy and can't talk to me now? No, I don't want to talk to anyone else. Tell him I'll call later."

Marcantonio emerged from the booth with a dead-pan

"You really weren't calling Stalin, were you?"
asked Representative Helen Gahagan Douglas, D., Calif

"Sure I was," replied Marcantonio, still dead-pan. "I telephone the Kremlin three or four times a week to get the pitch. That's the way I know how to follow the party line. Get the

Espionage Trial Changes

President Truman is considering recommending important changes in the trial procedure of espionage cases, aimed at preventing mistrials and the introduction of evidence endangering security, such as the FBI files made public in the Judith Coplon trial.

In a letter to freshman congressman Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts, who recommended the changes, Truman has strongly indicated the use of the FBI Coplon evidence was inadvisable, though he doesn't refer specifically to that trial.

The Furcolo recommendations embody:

(1) Appointment of an additional judge in trials of long duration that affect the national security. His sole function would be to prevent a mistrial by immediately taking over if the presiding judge becomes ill or dies.

Furcolo pointed out that the 1944 mass sed-ition cases were declared a mistrial following the death of presiding federal judge Edward Eicher. Result, the defendants went free

A new trial is almost out of the question in such cases, Furcolo contended, both because of the expense to the government and the fact that the defense would have an advantage in knowing the government's evidence.

(2) Furcolo also urged the appointment of a commission of law deans, judges and others to study revisions in the rules of evidence so as to preclude disclosure of security information in espionage trials. Regarding the FBI file impounded by the Coplon trial judge, the Massachusetts congressman declared: "The security of the nation should not be sacrificed for the sake of one defendant."

Truman replied that he and the attorney general would study both recommendations, adding,
"I think you are right about the procedure in criminal cases wherever the evidence affects national security.

"They (apparently the justice department) have not yet arrived at a proper solution for this situation in connection with a fair trial for defendants."

• So They Say

Some cocktail lounge liberals, as well as some of our conservative friends, have a "touch-me-not" attitude toward politics that simply does not make sense. They want the world

Early Detection Vital to Halt Spread of Cancer in Body

Written for NEA Service

The cause of cancer has so far remained undetected. However, many competent investigators all over the world are tackling this problem and it may not be too long before the vital clue is discovered. In the meanwhile, however, everyone should realize that it is most difficult to treat any disease the cause of which is as uncertain as is that of cancer.

The average age of the people in civilized countries is gradually increasing. In the later years of life, however, diseases like cancer become more frequent. Thus, there is good reason to believe that as there become more older members of the population, the frequency of cancer will also increase.

Develops Rapidly

A cancerous tumor located in a single organ or portion of the body can often be removed completely by surgery or treated effectively by X-rays if it is discovered and the treatment begun before it has had a chance to spread or to become generalized. This basic fact is the reason why all those who speak on cancer prevention emphasize the importance of an early diagnosis and prompt treatment.

Besides the need for more information on the cause or causes of cancer, a simple accurate test which will make it possible to know whether cancer is present or not anywhere in the body is also needed.

This is particularly important because it is obviously impossible to examine everyone thoroughly every few months by X-rays and other special tests which are the only means available today for identifying the presence of cancer in some particular body part or organ.

QUESTION: It is true that the darker the color of a person's eyes, the better the eyesight?

ANSWER: This is not true, except that people with dark eyes have somewhat better protection from bright light.
Dark-eyed people would not see better under ordinary conditions, but might do so in extremely bright sunlight.

Married Women Needn't Balk at Playing Cupid Occasionally

Every now and then, among the many letters I receive from single girls, young widows, and divorcees wanting to know how a girl can meet some eligible men there's the plaintive cry, "If there were some sort of club where young men and women could get acquainted."

There wouldn't be such a crying need for organized matchmaking if the married women of the country would take it on themselves to do a little boy-meets-girl arranging

That's the natural and logical place for girls without husbands and men without wives to meet—in the homes of their married friends

But married women today just turned there following a visit with friends here.

THE STORY: A wealthy widow, Mrs. Everson, has died with her servants in two giant trailers to escape destruction if atomic war comes. She has sold all her property, converted her cash to jewels, saying that those prepared to survive will rule after the catastrophe. With her is her cook Mrs.
Malone, her chauffeur Rudy, her houseboy Victor, and her companion the Marchese Dellacasa. Arriving at a sheltered desolate spot in canyon country, Mrs. Everson announces that this place is safe and prepares to camp for several months. She holds a dinner in celebration of their arrival. After dinner, Victor informs Rudy, with whom Mrs. Everson is in love, that the widow has gone out alone and is waiting for him. Rudy, who thinks of Mrs. Everson only in terms of her wealth, follows.
Mrs. Malone goes to her quarters, but the sky is dark, the atmosphere is heavy. Mrs. Malone begins to wonder if it is The Bomb or a storm.

"Is there anything more I can do?" Mrs. Malone said.
"Oh. No. No—nothing. Good night, Malone."

In spite of the throttling heat,
she closed the door of her cubicle, undressed and lay down on top of
the covers.

Rome, you carry it with you forever in your mind and heart.
Crumbling. Rich as old ivory.
Old ... old ...

"Is there anything more I can do?" Mrs. Malone said.
"Oh. No. No—nothing. Good night, Malone."

In spite of the throttling heat,
she closed the door of her cubicle,
undressed and lay down on top of
the covers.

MRS. MALONE must have slept an hour, perhaps. She awoke with a start to hear the roaring of a motor and the grinding of tires as they fought the sand for traction. She sat up, reaching for her robe. The truck! Someone was driving it away!

She groped with her bare feet, found her slippers, ran to the door. Standing on the top step she leaned forward to look. The lightning had increased now to an almost continuous flickering and dancing of blue fire. By this unholy light Mrs. Malone could see the great unwieldy shape of the truck lurching toward the bank.

Gears crashed violently, and of a sudden the headlights bored into the forest. The truck climbed, rocked, straightened out and roared off in a diminishing thunder of exhaust.

"Victor!" Mrs. Malone called.
"Victor!"

She was answered by a shriek that came from the direction of the falls. Her blood froze. Animal or human? The sound ripped the silence like tearing a cloth. Mrs.
Malone felt it in her teeth, along her spine; it was both a screech and a wail, a demon sound.

"Victor!" Mrs. Malone cried again.

She saw him running with a flashlight through the sand. Then he seemed fairly to leap across the stream in the direction from don't seem to go in for matchmaking the way they used to.

One reason probably is that they're afraid. They've been fed so much "how to hold your man" advice during the last few years that unless they're serenely confident of their husbands, they're afraid to have a husband-hunting woman around.

Another reason is just pure laziness on the married hostesses' part.
It's so simple to invite a few married couples to dinner or for an evening of cards. But it takes a little ingenuity to include Agatha who hasn't a husband and get hold of an eligible man to pair her off with

Single Girl's Plight Sometimes Ignored

Selfishness sometimes enters the picture, too. The woman who has a home and a husband and is sitting pretty, often doesn't care whether that nice Miss so-and-so or that sweet widow she met at church is sitting home alone or

But I think married women are shirking a social responsibility and also missing a lot of fun when they pass up matchmaking as an extracurricular activity.

If they are fortunate enough to have husbands and homes in which to entertain, they ought to put themselves out occasionally to bring two lonesome young people together.

In addition, it gives a woman a mighty smug feeling, as any matchmaker knows, to introduce a young couple in her home and have the meeting lead to marriage.

So how about making it a personal project—if you're comfortably married yourself—to see if you can't help one or two of the single women you know to find a husband?

You may be indebted yourself to some married woman who figured you'd be just right for your husband—and took the trouble to see that you met.

Address Given by Young Minister From Marshall

Rev. James C. Spalding, of Marshall, Professor of Religion at Missouri Valley college, was the speaker at Rotary Monday noon at the Bothwell hotel, taking for his subject: "Some Problems Facing Democracy in Europe."

Oscar DeWolf, president, presided over the meeting with invocation by Rev. J. Fred King.

The singing was led by Lee Peabody.

Guests introduced by J. O. Latimer were: Dick Snow, guest of Z. Lyle Brown; Phil Burford, guest of Kirk McCrary; Henry Neidhold and Rotarians Eugene L. Preston, newspaper publisher, Liberty; Kelly Edgington, Advance.

The Rev. Mr. Spalding, who with his wife, the former Miss Virginia Burford, of this city, recently returned from Europe, was introduced by the program chairman, Rev. T. W. Croxton.

A Nation Under God

The speaker said that in inspired moments we have always considered this nation as under God. "As we face the tremendous world responsibilities we have today," he said, "it would be well for us to consider what it means that this nation exists under God. The founders of our nation had a sense that God had favored our nation. Not only did they feel that God favored us in a special way, but felt that this favor implied a special destiny for us as a nation. God has given us these good things in order that we may fulfill our purpose. Thirdly they feel the feeling that if they did not live up to that purpose they would be standing under the judgment of Almighty God."

Mr. Spalding pointed out that men like Franklin, Jefferson, Washington and Madison felt that we had received those gifts in order to fulfill a high purpose. That purpose was to bring justice and freedom to all mankind.

Failed in Mission

"Lincoln," said Mr. Spalding, "reaffirmed that high calling of America in his Gettysburg address. He felt that the Civil War was a judgment of God upon America because we had not lived up to our mission."

"When we look at the problem of democracy in Europe today we must think of these things. First, we must provide leadership and inspiration to Europe. Second, if the nations of Europe don't seem to come along exactly as we want them to, we must not be arrogant, for we do not always act according to our ideals as recorded in the constitution and we have been better favored than some of the European nations."

"What Europe needs is more unity among nations," the speaker said. "America is helping in two ways. The ECA or Marshall Plan and the Atlantic Pact. The first helps provide resources to help Western Europe get on its feet. The second provides defense while Western Europe gets on its feet. Not a balance of power necessary but preponderance of power."

Sedalia Rotarians visiting other clubs the past week were D. S. Lamm, Anaheim, Calif.; Rev. D. Warren Neal, Brookfield; Emory Bowman, Kremmling, Colo.; O. W. Wiley, Port Allegany, Pa.; and Stansel DeFoe, Halifax, Canada.

Wm. F. Brown, chairman of the Pettis County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said today that despite the tremendous challenge of widespread polio epidemics this summer the National Foundation "would see to it that no victim of the disease goes without proper medical care for lack of funds."

"In view of the staggering outlays for polio treatment both this summer and last," he said, "I think it advisable to reassure the public that the National Foundation and its chapters will take whatever steps may be required to provide care for all those who need it."

Brown, noting that the polio incidence rate this year was running far ahead of last year's record total of 27,895 cases, said that never before in history had the nation experienced two such epidemic years in succession.

"Last year," he said, "National Headquarters of the Foundation sent $7,000,000 to chapters whose treasuries had been drained to provide medical care for patients. Already this year almost $4,000,000 has been dispatched to critical areas, and the end seems far from sight."

"I want to make it perfectly clear, however, that despite this financial crisis, the National Foundation has no intention of defaulting its obligation to underwrite medical care for those who need financial assistance and to carry on its extensive search and professional training program."

Mr. Brown said the National Foundation was fighting current epidemics "in every way it knew how," aided materially by a tremendous backlog of experience in coordinating previous epidemics.

"The National Foundation is unique," he said, "in its ability to mobilize all its forces in times of epidemic. Respirators, hot pack machines and other vital equipment, together with specially trained personnel are being speeded to critical areas this summer on a scale never before imagined."

Went to Fish, But Brought Back Snake

M. L. Hopper, Bill Bergman and Lester Harrell, all of Sedalia, went on a fishing trip Saturday night southeast of Smithton on Flat Creek, but instead of coming back with a fish story they came back with a snake story.

The uninvited fourth on their fishing party was a four foot rattlesnake with 11 rattles. Bergmann got a big strong forked stick and attempted to capture the snake, but it didn't like the idea. It began to fight and finally Bergmann took the stick and killed it.

The boys brought the dead snake back to town to prove their story.

Will Rogers Legend Recalled After 14 Years

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 15.—(P)—Fourteen years ago today, a small airplane nosed into the icy water at Point Barrow, Alaska, carrying Will Rogers to his death.

Most American adults bear a memory of hearing that tragic news and fondly recall the grinning Oklahoman who made the nation laugh. With the years he is fast growing into a U. S. legend.

Hollywood, where he worked and lived in his last years, recalls him as sometimes shrewd, sometimes humble, but always Will Rogers.

He played polo and earned $3,-500,000 in eight years from movies alone, but he maintained the common touch that was his trade mark. His favorite costume was blue denim pants, a leather jacket and a sloppy hat. Concerning his grammar, he said:

A Great Ribber
"Maybe ain't ain't so correct, but I notice that lots of folks who ain't usin' ain't ain't eatin'."

He was a great kiddier, but no practical joker on movie sets. Once he was given a dinner by his fellow workers, who jested that stepin' fecht' stole the Rogers pictures.

"Maybe so," he answered, "but I got a canyon out in the Santa Monica mountains that was paid for with pictures that Fetch stole from me."

Joel McCrea recalls that Rogers gave him his first big role, as son to the humorist in a picture. On location at Lake Tahoe, the young actor was playing his first scene with Rogers, but never could hear the right cue. Rogers took him aside.

"Look, young fella," he said, "this here is a pretty good script, but sometimes I find ways to improve it. Tell you what I'll do—every time I'm through talkin', I'll give you a nudge"

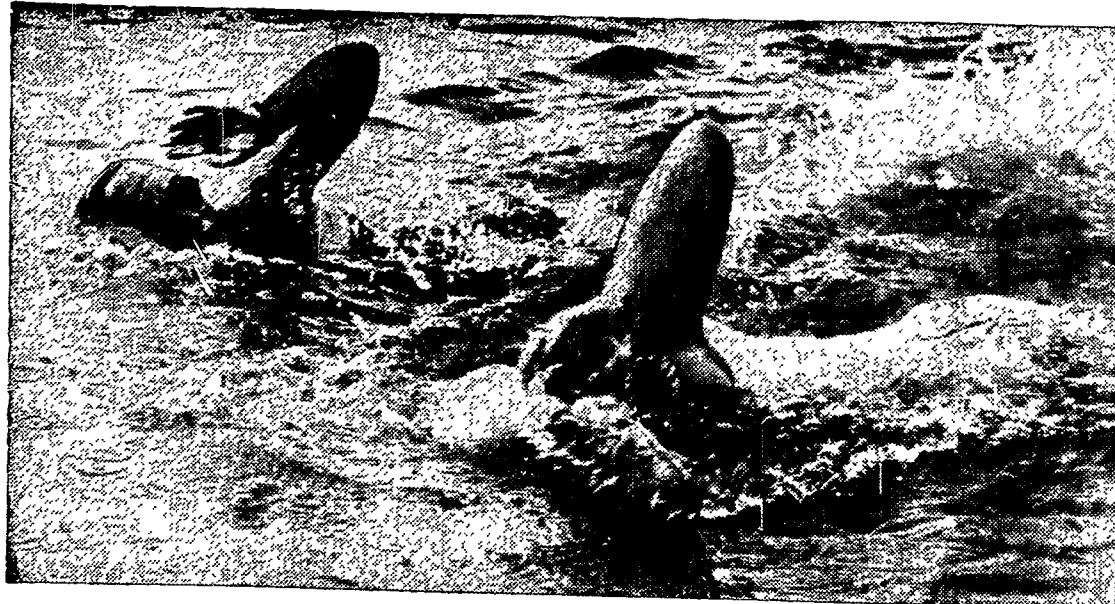

That's the way the picture was made: McCrea was poked before every line he spoke.

Few Topped Him
Few people ever topped Rogers. Studio Boss Winfield Sheehan was one. The humorist was making $200,000 per picture and thought he should choose his stories, like

Subpoenaed

was delivered to the Rogers ranch. Will gazed at the stacks and figured he'd stick to the old system. President Theodore Roosevelt stumped Will once. At a White House lunch, FDR said he had a "paying and patriotic job" for him. Rogers asked if the President was firing "some of the brain trust boys."

Never Replaced
No one has replaced Will Rogers. Radio, with its boff, bang and zowie type of comedy seems to have killed off the kind of humor supplied by men like Mark Twain and Rogers. There is no one to match such Rogers quips as:

"I might have gone to West Point, but I was too proud to speak to a congressman."
"Communism to me is one-third practice and two-thirds explanation."
"Mexican President stopped gambling in Tia Juana and the whole town is left unemployed. It's just like they stopped lobbying in Washington."

Seventy-six 4-H club boys and girls have entered 124 head of livestock for the first 4-H County Livestock Show to be held Friday August 19 at the Missouri Pacific Stock Yards in Sedalia.

Four members have entered 10 head of sheep; fifteen have entered 57 head of hogs; twenty-seven entered 33 beef animals; fifteen have entered 19 dairy heifers and cows; and four have entered 4 milking Shorthorns. One colt has been entered.

Due to the large number of animals to be shown judging will start at 10:30 a. m. instead of 1 p. m., as formerly announced. This is necessary in order that judging may be completed in time to permit the exhibitors to take their animals from the County Show to the State Fair Grounds in the late afternoon, Friday.

The order of showing will be sheep, hogs, dairy cattle, milking Shorthorns, beef and colts.

Judges of meat animals will be E. M. Woods, Livestock Director of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation and Charles Kyd, Extension Livestock Specialist of the University of Missouri. Homer Cloninger, Dairy Extension Specialist, University of Missouri, will judge the dairy animals and Milking Shorthorns.

This show is sponsored by the Pettis County Farm Bureau in co-operation with the Agricultural Extension Service.

The excellent cooperation of Sedalia merchants, bankers, manufacturers and Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and individuals have provided prize money for all exhibitors. Special awards are being made by the Lions club, the Kiwanis club and the Rotary club of Sedalia. Exhibitors of each animal will receive a blue ribbon plus $3.00 or a red ribbon plus $2.00 or a white ribbon plus $1.00. Except that no exhibitor will receive more than $6.00 for the animals shown in one class.

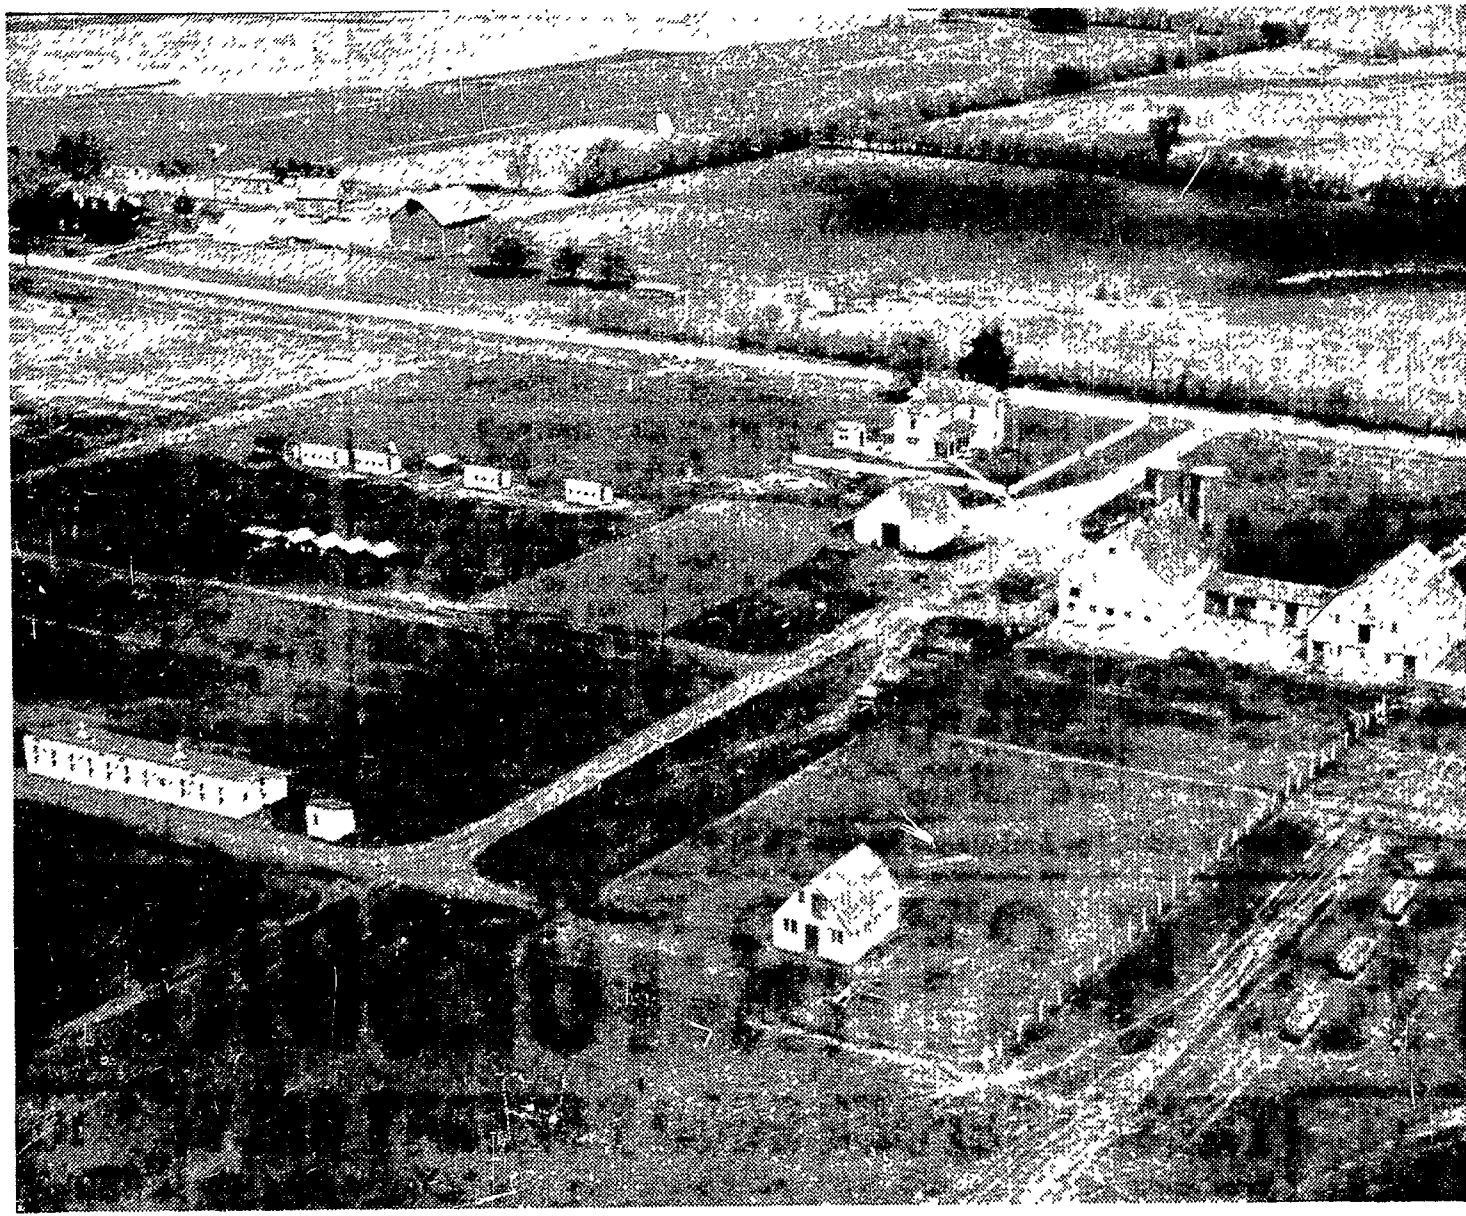

This show follows the Achievement Day's program at Convention Hall, Thursday, August 18, where exhibits of clothing, food, handicraft, vegetables, etc., will be exhibited. Cash awards amount to $50.00 will be awarded to clubs on the basis of the entries from the clubs. Blue ribbon awards will secure 3 points, red, 2 points and white 1 point.

The program at Convention Hall, Thursday starts at 8:30 with registration followed by judging, demonstrations, grooming, dress revue.

The public is invited to attend both events. Admission is free to each.

Mystery Farm Pictures in Central Missouri---

Whose farm is it?

Occupants of the above farm home may have wondered this spring about a plane buzzing low over their buildings. The picture explains it. The airplane pilot didn't know whose farm it was. The photographer didn't either. The two of them just flew around the Central Missouri area served by the Sedalia Democrat-Capital newspapers and took pictures. They couldn't take pictures of all the farms but they got as many good shots as possible during their flight time.

So about once a week hereafter, until the pictures run out, the Sedalia Democrat-Capital will

print these farm home pictures as a news feature. The newspapers would like to know whose farm homes they are.

Hereafter from time to time the other mystery farm pictures will appear on the Democrat-Capital farm page. Watch for them. If one is your farm picture, come for the photograph.

Floyd Schoutn, a 25-year-old veteran, owns the farm that appeared in last Monday's Democrat and Tuesday's Capital newspapers. Floyd's mother, Mrs. C. S. Schoutn came to the office Tuesday to identify the farm for her son.

The farm is located about 11 miles west of Sedalia and the mailing address is Green Ridge, route 1. Mr. Schoutn, who spent 28 months in the infantry, mostly overseas, purchased his 212 acre farm through the GI Bill of Rights, February, 1947.

Mr. Schoutn is not married, but has plenty of help to operate his farm since his mother and dad are living with him. Mrs. Schoutn usually can between three and four hundred quarts of fruit and vegetables and said she took turns with her husband in caring for the chickens.

Eight cows have to be milked two times a day. Floyd sells most of the milk at Emma. On this farm the crops consist mostly of wheat, corn and hay.

Mrs. Schoutn said she remembered when the plane buzzed over the farm to take an aerial photo of it, while she was preparing the noon meal. She reported that since the picture was taken, many improvements had been made on the property.

International Youth Exchange Student Coming to Missouri

The Agricultural Extension Office has been notified by Robert Clough, State 4-H Club Agent, that an International Youth Exchange student from France will arrive in Missouri in late August. The State Club office is looking for a farm home for him for September, October and November, and another for December, January and February.

Under the International Youth Exchange Program students from America are placed in homes in Europe and in exchange European students are placed in American homes.

The object of the program is to acquaint American agricultural students with our rural way of life, our methods and techniques, and our problems. It is hoped that better International relationships will grow out of this Youth Exchange Program.

Born in 1921

Claude Foucault, the French student coming to Missouri, was born in 1921, his address is Lutville La Guetard, Department of Leiret. His education includes five years of work equivalent to high school and two years in the Agricultural School of Cheomey in Montargie. He knows some English. Along with his parents he farms 150 hectares, the chief crops being grain and beets. Sheep is their chief livestock activity. Claude is especially interested in increasing his knowledge of cattle and sheep breeding.

Mr. Clough, State Agent, writes concerning placing this young man: "The family taking this delegate into the home are expected to provide board, room and some incidental spending money. He is expected to do some work. He is a student in training. He is not expected to serve in the capacity of a hired hand. Most interested families will understand the situation and give the boy a good home and expect the boy to earn his keep."

Any farm family interested in this program should contact the Agricultural Extension Office in Sedalia. Mr. Clough will visit all interested families and make definite arrangements with the best family.

Caution On Alfalfa Seed

Crop From States West Of Missouri Short This Year

Farmers seeding alfalfa in Pettis county this fall may have trouble getting alfalfa seed of the variety that they desire. Apparently the alfalfa seed crop from these states just west of Missouri is very small this year and carryovers of seed from this area are also small.

Many varieties other than Kansas Common, which has probably been the most popular alfalfa in Missouri, can be expected to give good returns, says county agent Roy I. Coplen. All of the common alfalfas from states to the north production soon. Many people have found that pullets should be in the laying house when 5 to 10% are laying. Moving after this time usually results in a set back in production.

Some of the things is pays to provide are—3 to 4 square feet per hen, an open front on houses 20 or more feet deep. A straw loft makes the house much more comfortable due to a higher temperature and better moisture control. Drooping pits makes cleaning out the house easier. It's better on birds. Use of built up litter saves labor in cleaning out the house.

and west have given good results on yield and winter hardiness tests in Missouri, ranking with Kansas Common. Grimm alfalfa has also given consistent good results in Missouri.

More caution is advised in purchasing seed from the southwest, however. Much Argentina seed, which is unadapted to this far north, has been used in Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California and seed from these plantings has always given poor results in this area, from both the standpoint of hay yield and winter killing. Common alfalfa seed from these states that is known to come from the more hardy native strains has proven satisfactory, so the use of seed from this southwestern area can be counted upon to give good results only if it is seed of verified origin.

South African and Peruvian alfalfa, as well as Argentine, have consistently not shown themselves to be hardy enough to withstand Missouri winters. In those cases where stands have survived winter weather these alfalfas have yielded below the native alfalfas grown in this country.

Those farmers who have fields infested with bacterial wilt will find it advisable to pay the extra price to get one of the new wilt resistant varieties of alfalfa, either Buffalo or Ranger. These varieties have not proven superior where wilt is not present, but if wilt is in the soil, the use of a wilt-resistant variety is the only successful way of combating the disease.

An Additional Allotment For Pettis County

To Encourage Permanent Pasture Improvements

An increase in the Pettis County Agricultural Conservation program funds for 1949 practice payments amounting to $2,000 has been received, reports Jas. A. Harvey, chairman of the Pettis county PMA committee.

The additional county allotment has been designated by the State PMA Committee to be used only for the purpose of encouraging farmers participating in the 1949 Farm Program to carry out additional units of the permanent pasture improvement practice in accordance with the required specifications.

Requests for this additional assistance must be filed with the county PMA committee no later than August 31, and no farm will be granted more than $75.00 additional assistance.

Primary Purpose

The primary purpose of the pasture improvement practice under the agricultural Conservation Program is to check erosion and depletion of the soil. But the real test of pasture improvement in dairy areas is the increase in milk production per acre. Here in Pettis county several farmers, including dairymen, have carried out this approved practice—the seeding of approved pasture mixtures and using limestone, phosphate, potash and other minerals—in recent years and they have reported a noticeable increase in pasture carrying capacity, length of grazing period, and profitable results in meat and dairy production as well as the production it affords their soil from erosion.

This practice should prove of special interest to farmers at this time when we are entering a period of basic crop reduction and conversion to grasses and legumes, states Harvey, and we urge all interested farmers to contact the county PMA committee at the local office to discuss and make application for additional assistance in carrying out the pasture improvement practice on a small acreage on their farm.

Selection Of 4-H Judging Teams

The County 4-H Dairy and Livestock Judging teams which will represent Pettis county at the District Judging contests this month have been selected.

The Dairy Judging Team consists of J. D. Schlobohm of the Oak Grove 4-H club, Earl D. Thompson of the Quisenberry club, Robert Yeater of the Oak Grove club, and Gerald Schlobohm from the Lone Elm club who will serve as alternate.

The dairy team was selected upon the basis of their judging ability at the District Dairy Judging Training meeting which was held in Pettis county last July 6.

Emmett Fairfax, Billy Riley, Duane Leiter and Jesse Fairfax, all of the South Abell 4-H club, were selected to make up the Livestock Judging Team this year. Jesse Fairfax will be the alternate. These four boys, in the order listed, had the first, second, third and fourth highest scores at the County Livestock Judging Training meeting held on July 20th. The members of these two judging teams were selected upon the basis of both their judging ability and their ability to give reasons on animals they judge.

The District Judging Contests for West Central Missouri in which these teams will participate will be held at the State Fair on August 22nd. The winning teams from each District will compete against each other for top honors at the State 4-H Judging Contest at Columbia on October 1.

Tour Be Made To Five Farms On August 30

Balanced Farm Practices Are To Be Viewed

On Tuesday, August 30th, Pettis county folks are cordially invited to join in a tour to five different farms where Balanced Farming practices are being carried out. To be seen on the route will be two modern dairy setups; a permanent pasture that has been cultivated, fertilized and reseeded; a complete water management system; a farm home that has been remodeled and a clean ground system for hogs that includes three fields with a pond for fresh water.

Dairy Buildings at Bagbys and Fickens

The starting place for the tour will be the J. H. Bagby farm 1 1/2 miles west of Camp Branch road. Mr. Bagby has a new loafing barn and a separate building which contains a six cow milking parlor, feed room, wash room and milk room. Forrest Miller is the farm manager. The second stop will be at W. J. (Bill) Fickens 1 mile south of Smithton. Mr. Fickens has remodeled an old barn to provide loafing space and an up-to-date milking room. Connected to this milking parlor is a modern milk room made of concrete blocks where the milk is cooled and prepared for market.

To Eat Picnic Dinner at Olen Monsees And Will Also See Improved Pasture There

Just a half mile south of Fickens is another dairy farm owned and operated by Olen Monsees. Mr. Monsees has a modern dairy barn that will house 34 cows in stanchions. However one of the two main parts of interest for the tour is a part of a permanent pasture that he plowed up last fall, limed, fertilized with raw rock phosphate and reseeded with a recommended mixture of grasses and legumes. Also of interest is that time will be taken to eat dinner under the shade trees at Monsees. Each family should bring their basket dinner and can eat in their cars or under the shade of the trees on the Monsees lawn. Plans are being made to have drinking facilities available.

Home Improvement, Terracing System and Poultry at Runnes

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Runge started making plans to remodel their kitchen in 1946. Now cabinets are in place, a new linoleum floor cover has been laid and water from a new deep well is now piped into the house.

The Runnes also started on their first terrace outlets in 1946 and now have 6 outlets built and 45 acres terraced.

A new 20 by 40 poultry house has been built and the pullets were housed early in August.

Three Clean Hog Pastures at Arnolds

C. S. Arnold who lives 3 miles west of Hughesville has three hog pastures, none of which drain across each other. With that arrangement he can rotate his pigs from year to year and keep them on pastures that are free of diseases and worm eggs. Water from all three lots is provided by a new pond.

Most sea birds are known to drink salt water in preference to fresh, and the National Wildlife Federation finds that captive gulls may die without it.

JULIA MISBEHAVES

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT

Sedalia, Mo., Monday, August 15, 1949

Swimming was the most popular part of the camp program. This picture shows only a part of the group occupying the pool in order to escape the afternoon heat.

Deck tennis, a new sport similar to volley ball, was another popular sport at the 4-H Camp.

Pettis County Had 46 Of The Club Members There

The Pettis County 4-H'ers who attended the Tri-County 4-H camp at Knob Noster, State Park from July 29 to August 1, have returned home tired but happy following the camping period chuck full of activities.

There were 64 Pettis county club members originally scheduled to attend from Pettis county but due to various reasons the number was reduced to 46 attending.

The camp got off to a wet start due to the rainstorm which prevailed during the late afternoon delaying some of the outdoor activities. However after the storm abated the campers were in full spirits for the delayed swimming period.

There was no room for late risers at camp as the program started at 6:30 each morning. The campers enjoyed various activities which included swimming, handicraft, use of firearms, conservation, organized recreation, party games and the publishing of a camp newspaper.

Services Were Held

A chapel service was held both Sunday morning and evening, following the Sunday evening service there was an impressive candlelighting ceremony in which all participated.

One of the highlights of the camp was a ball game Sunday afternoon between the 4-H'ers and the leaders and agents.

Club members attending from Pettis county were: Alice Walton, Marilyn Miller, Dorothy Rayl, Virginia Fairfax, Elinor VanDyke, Viola Curry, Ann Heffernan, Mary Jo Welliver, Dorothy Mewes, Barbara Reid, Betty Jo Reid, Lois Ann Smith, Susan Wade, Rita Jackson, Anna Jane Butterwick, Virginia Curry, Virginia Landes, Ann Harding, Una Hudson, Bonnie Gorrell, Shirley Eichholz, Ed Hoehns, Don McCune, Joe Reine, Joe Welliver, Marion Edmundson, Ralph Vierebrock, Sylvan Demand, Billy Hammond, Darrell Ford, James Ellis, Billy Alltop, Billy Clemons, Delmar Fisher, John Greer, Norman Morton, Charles Pace, Howard Finke, Clinton Reid, Pete Siegel, Lyman Lyne, Donald Smith, Tommy Curry, Richard Rayl, Bobby Welliver.

The leaders from Pettis county who attended camp were: Mrs. John Curry, Ella Dee Runge, Glen Johnson and Norman Rayl.

Barley Good For Fall Pasture

Several inquiries have come to the County Agricultural Extension office on varieties of barley recommended for Pettis county. Two varieties are recommended: Reno and Michigan Winter. These are both bearded types.

Some essentials in the production of high yields of barley should be of interest.

Barley responds to the use of lime as much, if not more, than any other grain crop. A firm well packed seed bed is needed. A well prepared fall seeded alfalfa seed bed makes a good seed bed for barley. High yields require a high state of fertility. Barley will respond as much or more to a liberal application of commercial fertilizer high in phosphate and carrying potash on land low in potash. Treating of the seed pays big dividends. The chemical treatment will help control a number of the diseases that bother barley. Barley does best on well drained land.

Barley seeded in late August and early September will furnish a lot of good fall pasture. Eight to 10

Back-to-School Penney Day

Around about 9:00 o'clock this morning it looked like all the junior citizens had gathered on the corner of Third street and Ohio avenue at Penney's store.

It was the annual "Back to School Party" of the Penney store and between 1,500 and 2,000 children were on hand to march down in parade style to the Fox and Liberty theatres. In charge of the party were Francis Diefenbach and Marvin Hannigan.

Girls wore everything from jeans and loud shirts to dresses with ruffles and ribbons and most of the boys were in jeans and T-shirts, many with bright letters across the front, reading "St. Louis Cardinals," "Post 16, American Legion" and various other things. Some of the boys, like the girls, were dressed up in party fashion.

There were many Negro children.

The two and a half hour show was a Laurel and Hardy picture, "Swiss Miss," and a Bugs Bunny cartoon. Each child also received a book on the states of the union, with information about each state and its famous people.

After the crowd of children had paraded to the show and gone in, late comers could be seen running down Ohio avenue in groups of two's or three's, from Penney's, to one of the two shows.

The National Wildlife Federation is an alliance of state federations which are in turn made up of federated organizations within the states such as sportsmen, club women, nature societies, youth, farmer, business, and social groups concerned with the conservation and restoration of outdoor resources.

Chiefs Beat Boonville 6-1 Sunday Local B-J Team Will Play Three Games This Week

Sedalia Chiefs came through with another victory by defeating the Boonville Lions 6 to 1, Sunday night under the lights of Liberty park. The Chiefs now have a record in the last half of the league standings of nine wins against one defeat.

They are now leading the Moberly Miners in first place in the last half of the standings by one game. The Miners topped the first half of the Ban Johnson league standings.

Imhauser Pitched
Joe Imhauser, ace right hander was on the hill for the Chiefs, with Carl Barbour behind the plate. Jewitt and Nixon formed the battery for Boonville. Imhauser allowed five hits, while Jewitt allowed eight.

The Chiefs scored their runs in the first, second, fourth and eighth innings. Boonville's lone tally came in the sixth inning. Hawley and May led the hitting attack for Sedalia, each getting two for three, one being a double by Hawley.

To be a Busy Week
The Chiefs have a crowded schedule for this week, with all games being played at the Liberty Park at 8:00 p. m. Wednesday night the local team will play the Jefferson City Stags in a regular league game. Either Bob Brown or Jim Egbert will be used on the mound.

Thursday night, the team will play a semi-pro club of Marshall. This game is being played in order to give the 23 players on the local team a chance to play. Friday night is the all important game with the Moberly Miners. Joe Imhauser will be sent to the mound for this vital game.

Akron Entrant Won The Soap Box Derby

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 14—(AP)—For the third time in the last five tries, an Akron entrant today wore the crown of All-American soap box derby champion.

Racing yesterday over the National Derby Downs course where just last week he won the Akron district finals, 15-year-old Freddy Derks rolled his black walnut speedster to victory over 147 other entrants from 40 states, Panama and Alaska.

The youngest, who carved the body of his mount from an 80-foot walnut tree, has a $5,000 college scholarship coming for his victory.

There Goes the Ball And Another Yankee Run

Rules Drafted By The NCAA

CHICAGO, Aug. 15—(AP)—A National Collegiate Association group has laid down six rules on football bowl games. They may become NCAA law next January.

The associated committee also has told nine NCAA member colleges that they've violated the NCAA "sanity" code and other NCAA status is in danger. The nine were not named in yesterday's announcement.

Twelve other unnamed colleges were found violating the code. But they got by with a shave of the NCAA finger after they promised to comply with the code hereafter. They're on probation, pending proof that they're obeying it.

In addition to recommending six rules for bowl games, a committee on the subject looked into "problems" created by all-star contests in various sports, and into the increasing number of basketball tournaments.

The group, however, decided not to do anything on all-star games and tournaments until it has made a further study of them.

The six rules, drafted by the NCAA association committee will go before the NCAA's full convention in New York next January.

Red Sox in Second Place
Today, exactly seven weeks later, the Red Sox, in an amazing amount of face, have made up two-thirds of the ground on the Yankees. Now in second place, they have picked up eight games and trail by only four.

The Sox, piling up 24 hits and 18 bases on balls, overpowered the Washington Senators twice yesterday, 9-3 and 13-4, to pick up another game on the Yankees. Stengel's crew whipped Philadelphia, 4-2, but the Athletics came back to win the second game of the doubleheader 4-3.

The twin triumph gave the Red Sox a record of 32 victories in 41 games since that fateful July 4. They've now won 18 of 22 in their latest home stand.

Dodgers Lead National League
The Brooklyn Dodgers regained the lead from St. Louis in the tight National League race, winning from Boston, 7-2 while Pittsburgh was trouncing the Cardinals, 4-0. This turn of events but the Brooks one game in front of the Redbirds.

The third place New York Giants remained 12 full games off the pace despite their two victories over the Philadelphia Phils, 8-1 and 1-0. The Cincinnati Reds came out on top in the battle of the cellarites, winning two from the last place Chicago Cubs, 4-2 and 8-0.

Lefty Mel Parnell turned in his 18th triumph for the Boston Red Sox with a seven-hitter in the opener against Washington. Dom DiMaggio sparked the Red Sox

Pirates Gave Cardinals a Series Loss

Bucs Won Saturday And Sunday, But Dropped Opener

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates proved to be one club that wouldn't stay impressed with recent St. Louis Cardinal batting attacks—and they handed the high flying Redbirds their first series loss since mid-July when the Philadelphia Phillies took two out of three games from the Cardinals.

Cliff Chambers blanketed the Birds on three hits for a 4-0 victory at Sportsman's Park yesterday. The Bucs took the Saturday night contest 6-3 after dropping the series opener Friday night 8 to 2.

Chambers was sharp—so sharp that after Stan Musial hit his twenty-ninth double of the season in the third inning the only man to get on base was Enos Slaughter by way of four balls in the sixth frame.

Homer Cinched it For Pittsburgh
Ralph Kiner's thirty-first home run of the season accounted for the final Pittsburgh tally after errors by Del Rice and Howard Pollet let to previous runs score.

Pollet was socked for seven hits in his five innings on the mound. These included Bockman's double and Stan Rojek's triple in addition to Kiner's four bagger.

The defeat toppled the Redbirds from first place again, putting them a full game back of the Brooklyn Dodgers who defeated the Boston Braves 7 to 2 yesterday. It was the final home game of the Cardinals. They now start a road trip that will put them in every city on the National league circuit before they return here in September.

Pollet had won six straight games before he was bested by Chambers. His last loss was a 3-0 affair by the Cincinnati Reds on July 2.

The Browns, still resting at the bottom of the American league standings, dropped two games to the Detroit Tigers in the Motor City 6 to 2 and 4 to 3.

Righthander Fred Hutchinson gave the Browns just six hits as he coasted to the first game victory. His hopes for a shutout vanished when Jack Graham hit his eighteenth homer of the season in the fifth inning. They got the other run in the seventh.

Ned Garver gave up 10 hits in the nightcap, but it was a first base line blow by Aaron Robinson with the bases loaded that beat him. The Browns and apparently even Robinson thought the ball was foul, but umpire Bill Summers said fair and the three base runners reached home safely although Robinson stopped at first.

The Browns open nat Sportsman's park against the Chicago White Sox tonight with Cliff Fannin slated to pitch.

Yanks-Athletics Split

Alex Kellner scored his fourth victory over the Yankees and his fifteenth of the season as the Athletics beat the league leaders for a split of the double header, Bob Porterfield, aided by Joe Page, was credited with winning the opener for the Yankees.

The third place Cleveland Indians advanced to within five games of the top by winning both ends of a doubleheader from Chicago White Sox, 4-3 and 5-0. Bob Lemon hurled his 14th victory in the opener and Garcia his 10th in the nightcap. It was the Mexican's third shutout.

The fourth place Detroit Tigers moved to within eight and a half games off the pace, downing the St. Louis Browns twice, 6-2 and 4-3. Fred Hutchinson coasted to his 11th victory and his sixth straight with a six-hitter in the opener. George Kell paced the Tigers with a double and triple to drive in three runs.

Playoff of Tam O'Shanter Golf

CHICAGO, Aug. 15—(AP)—The Tam O'Shanter Golf roulette got an extra thrill today, sending Johnny Palmer and Jimmy Demaret, a pair of highpowered money players, into a $17,000 championship playoff.

Seventy-two holes weren't enough to determine a winner of promoter George S. May's fabulous $35,000 "world" tourney yesterday. Palmer and Demaret charged in among the par-whackers with 275's—13 strokes under the Tam regulation.

Today's 18 hole showdown, will pay the winner $10,000. Second place is worth $7,000.

Palmer grooved a pair of 35's yesterday. Demaret carved 33-34—67 for his 275.

Carry Middlecoff, with 68, and Toney Penna, with 70 went for 278. Bob Hamilton's 71 put him in at 279. Buck White, the 54-hole leader with 205, ballooned to a closing 75. John Bulla, Jim Turnesa, and Jim Ferrier trudged in at 282.

Sam Sneed out in 35, needed a 33 coming in to win with 275. But the best he could do was 36 for a 71. However, he collected third prize of $5,000.

Opinions on Big Seven Are Same as Last Year

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 15—(AP)—The 1949 football race in the Big Seven Conference is going to be just about a carbon copy of last year's in the opinion of the loop coaches.

Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas are going to finish in the one-two-three spots, just like they did last year.

Nebraska will be fourth and Colorado fifth, exchanging the places they held at the finish last year. Iowa State and Kansas State follow in sixth and seventh places.

The coaches made their selections by secret ballot yesterday as they wound up a two-day meeting with members of the Midwestern Intercollegiate Officials Association.
